Masks required at Mayo Clinic Health System facilities

As the COVID-19 pandemic evolves, Mayo Clinic Health System continues to assess and adjust practices to best protect the safety of patients, visitors and staff.

Beginning Monday, April 13, patients and visitors are required to wear a personal homemade or cloth mask while on any Mayo property and are highly encouraged to bring their own cloth masks to help conserve the supply of surgical masks for frontline medical staff. If you do not have a mask, Mayo Clinic Health System will provide one. Please note, visitor restrictions remain in place until further notice with few exceptions.

This decision is based recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Mayo Clinic experts.

Patients and visitors will see staff providing direct patient care wearing surgical masks. In pro-

Operation Round Up recipients

The Federated Rural Electric Trust, Jackson, recognized local organizations receiving $17,250 through Operation Round Up. These donations occur due to monthly contributions by participating Federated members. 24 groups received money in this 51st round of funding:

Local organizations receiving donations include:

Heritage Acres, Fairmont, $300 to hire a blacksmith for July 4th music festival event

Martin County Historical Society, Fairmont, $450 to replace up to three mannequins to display historical clothing

Granada Fire Department, $500 toward washer/dryer for turnout gear to remove cancer-causing chemicals

Minnesota West, Jackson, $700 Scholarship for a Jackson or Martin County lineman student

City of Granada, $1,000 toward replacing an emergency siren that no longer works

Dunnell-Lake Fremont Fire Dept., $1,062 for two new pagers replacing old ones that no longer work

Salvation Army's Heatshare program, $1,500 to help Federated members with emergency energy assistance

The Trust Board re-35 applications totaling $54,883 in this 51st round of funding. The Trust Board will meet again in the fall to determine the next round of funding. The deadline for submitting applications is September 30.

About 80 percent of Federated Rural Electric members participate in Operation Round Up. They allow their electric bills to be rounded up to the nearest dollar. For example, a bill of $55.75 is rounded up to $56. The extra cents go to a special trust fund, which is administered by an independent trust board that consists of seven Federated members. Since the first round of funding in 1995, more than $691,000 has been awarded to local organizations and as high school scholarships.

'Operation Round Up is a way for members to help members," said Marlys Runge, Federated's Trust Board Chairman. "Just a few cents a month, when added with other members' cents, can really add up and do some good in our communities. On the average, a member's Round Up contributions amount to approximately $6 a year, which is tax-deductible."

The Trust Board's policy outlines project categories eligible for funding:

•community (emphasis on public safety, health care and enhancement of cultural environment),

•community leadership programs,

•education and youth projects (social problems and wellness/athletics),

•environmental projects (recycling, environmental education and environmental ag research),

·emergency energy assistance funds to organizations for distribution and disaster relief.

Mayo Clinic announces furloughs and reductions

Mayo Clinic staff are doing extraordinary work, leading in the response to the COVID-19 pandemic. We are proud of, and committed to, our staff and our communities as they come together to fight this global health crisis.

Mayo Clinic is facing unprecedented challenges as a result of these circumstances, including a financial impact that requires significant adjustments to our operations. The decision to proactively postpone elective patient care was the right one, but it eliminated most of our revenue at the same time we are making critical investments to develop and expand testing, conduct research to help stop the pandemic, and realign our facilities and care teams to treat COVID-19 patients.

Mayo Clinic is taking necessary steps to reduce expenses, but additional measures are needed to ensure that we can emerge from this situation in a stable position. While we were able to protect full pay and benefits for our staff through April 28, temporary furloughs of some staff and salary reductions will be required after that time. We will work with our teams over the coming weeks to ensure that our staff are supported, that the duration of this disruption is as limited as possible, and that we are ready to ramp up quickly and resume full operations when it is safe to do so.

Additional details:

•The number of staff to be furloughed will not be known until late April or early May. At this time, every site and department is working through their

•Of nearly 70,000 people working at Mayo Clinic across the nation, less than one-third will have pay cuts.

A few other things to clarify what we do know

How much of a pay cut will staff take?

The Mayo Clinic CEO and CAO will take a salary reduction of 20%. Neither will receive a 2020 salary adjustment. The direct reports of the CEO and CAO will take a 15% pay cut. Consultants and senior administrators will take a 10% pay cut, and salaried allied health staff will take a 7% pay cut. The rate of pay for hourly staff will not change.

Which staff will take a pay cut?

and those employees whose costs are fully paid by an external party to Mayo Clinic, will take pay cuts. Most Mayo Clinic nurses are nonexempt and are compensated by the hour for their work. Hourly staff will not take pay cuts. Other examples of hourly staff would include desk attendants, environmental services, and technicians who might work in areas like lab or radiology.

Fairmont City Council update

The Fairmont City Council met Monday evening, via a group video chat, because of the virus pandemic.

The council selected five finalists for the city administrator position. Sharon Klumpp of Baker Tilly was hired to find applicants for the vacant administrator position. The firm received 28 applications and the five finalists will be interviewed by the council on May 4th, followed by meetings with the city staff. The last day of employment for interim city administrator Mark Sievert of Rochester will be May 28th.

The council was informed that because of Sunday's heavy snowfall, some street improvement projects have been delayed including Winnebago Avenue, Fourth Street, and the Human Services parking lot.

Hy-Vee seeks photos to recognize workers

As the coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to impact daily lives, Hy-Vee is asking essential workers across its eight-state region to submit photos of themselves doing their iobs so Hy-Vee can recognize the work they are doing every day to serve their communities.

The photos will be All but our hourly staff, featured on Hy-Vee's social media platforms in a video montage as part of the company's #HelpfulSmileStrong social media campaign and as an extension of Hy-Vee's recent heroes ad running on

From doctors, to retail workers, to childcare providers, delivery drivers and more, Hy-Vee is encouraging individuals to submit photos of themselves at work during this time. Individuals may only submit photos of themselves, and submitted photos must not contain any other individuals in them.

Essential workers interested in participating are asked to send their photo(s), along with their first and last name, hometown and occupation to Hy-Vee's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/Hy-Vee via Facebook Messenger. Photos will be accepted until Monday, April 20.

Ruby's Pantry changes

We will still have Ruby's Pantry on the Monday, April 20th. We will be having it in a different location. It will be at the Sherburn High School parking lot. Go to 1st Street and head west two blocks to North Prairie. Take a right toward the football field and get in line. Please do not block cross streets.

We will have the people open their trunks at the beginning and then drive through to each pallet and the worker will place the food in the trunk. We are asking that no one gets out of their vehicle along the line. There will be a worker at the beginning of the line to collect the $20 for their share. There will be no other registration at this

We also have a time change. We will start the distribution at 4:00 and go until 7:30 p.m.

This is such a trying time and we are expecting that we will have many more customers than usual. Ruby's Pantry will be sending us more food so we would really like to let people know this is available for them.

If you have any questions feel free to contact

Nancy Urban Ruby's Pantry Volunteer Coordinator 507-236-6571

Wipes used for disinfecting, changing diapers, personal hygiene and house cleaning that may even be labeled "flushable" do not break down the same way as toilet paper. Wipes will snag in sewer pipes, catching passing debris, and will create a "ball" that will grow to plug the pipe or clog the lift stations, resulting in sewage backups and costly repairs.

Please Do Not Flush Anything Other Than Toilet Paper.

Additional no flush items include: all wipes, diapers, feminine hygiene products, rags, wrappers and medication.

Carron J. Klukow, 81

Carron Julia Klukow, 81, of Sherburn, passed away peacefully April 5, 2020, at St. Cloud Hospital, after a brief illness, with her family by her side. She addressed her challenges with her great spirit but also with grace and dignity.

Carron was born on August 5, 1938 to Vern "Cy" and Ruth Dahlke. She grew up in boys and developed into a fierce athlete who had a lifelong love affair with sports, especially softball, bowling, golf and tennis, all of which she excelled at along with any others she tried. She attended Sherburn High School and was immensely proud of her first-chair trombone distinction and the beautiful music made by the swing band. She both loved competing with the boys, but also dancing in her poodle skirt

Carron left Sherburn briefly to study to become a stewardess in Kansas City, where she continued making life-long friends. She returned to her hometown and worked for the phone company and the bank before settling for many years at Sperry a neighborhood filled with rose from a worker to inspector to supervisor. She was both popular and respected made life-long friends.

> and sometimes three jobs while making a wonderful home for her two children, Todd and Trudi. Nights and weekends, she worked at the Sherburn Liquor Store, the American Legion, and the Fox Lake Golf Club, which she managed for many years. After 25+ years at Unisys in Jackson and Clear Lake, IA, Carron retired and returned to her home and promptly began working for COR in Sherburn.

After retiring for good, Carron enjoyed many more fun excursions to garage and estate sales, which she Univac (Unisys), where she had enjoyed for many years, where she continued to find treasures to refinish and decorate her home. She was also Martin County Humane Society, fundraising, supporting and transporting animals to and from the facility, giving them the best chance possible to find forever homes. Over time, she had a large and varied fur family, including her dog Ruben who came to her through the shelter.

Although she loved being outside in her yard, enjoying the sunshine and the birds at her feeders, much of her free time was spent cheering on Minnesota sports, professional and collegiate. She was happiest when there was at least one game on television, and the Sports Page was always the first to be read from Messages of Sympathy may the daily paper. Most recently she enjoyed collecting tickets at www.kramerfuneralhome. by her co-workers and again a very active volunteer for the with her friends at Hamburg-Sherburn Community Chest, er Night at the Legion where Carron always held two but closer to her heart, at the she loved visiting with her her children, Todd Klukow many friends.

Many thanks to Carron's neighbors and many friends who made it possible for her to continue to live in her beloved home. Their kindness and generosity will never be forgotten. While she enjoyed getting out and visiting with people, she loved nothing in her home. Any memorial should be directed to the donor's choice, however, the Martin County Humane Society was always dear to Carron's heart. A memorial serfuture, when it is safe to do so.

During Minnesota's "stay at home order", we are designated an essential business in order to help our customers perform necessary travel. Our sales department is able to operate, by appointment only, We will have someone at the dealership Monday through Friday, 8:30am-5pm to help you if you are in need of a vehicle. Appointments outside of those hours may be available as well. We can arrange to do much of the sale over the phone, and/or bring the vehicle to you if you prefer not to come to the dealership.

Our service department will also be open by appointment. In order to help keep our staff and customers healthy, we would like to try and limit visitors in the dealership. We will be happy to pick your vehicle up for service, and deliver it back to you. We will sanitize commonly touched areas upon return. If you prefer to bring it to us, we can arrange for you to use a loaner while we are working on it.

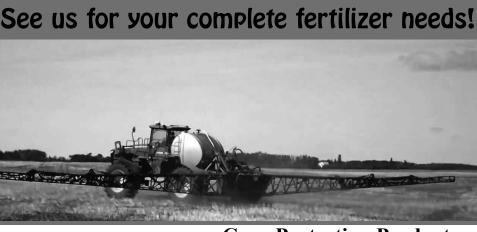

During this time, we will continue to practice social distancing between our staff and our customers. We also continue to sanitize commonly touched areas around the dealership and in our vehicles. We hope you and your loved ones stay safe and healthy during this time. Our hearts are with you.

The USDA World Agricultural Supply and Demand Estimates (WASDE) Report released on April 9 increased the projected 2019-20 U.S. corn and soybean ending stocks. The higher corn ending stocks were primarily due to a reduction in the annual bushels of corn used for ethanol production, while the soybean reduction was due to reduced estimates in annual soybean exports. The report was regarded as mainly "bearish" for both the corn and soybean markets in the coming months, which added more downward pressure to both near term grain markets and forward contract prices for the Fall of 2020.

The March 31st USDA Planting Intentions Report estimated a large increase in both U.S. corn and soybean acreage for 2020, which is likely to put further downward pressure on the grain markets going forward this year. Following are some highlights of the latest USDA reports:

CORN:

Based on the WASDE Report, the projected corn ending stocks for the 2019-20 year, which ends on August 31, are estimated at 2.092 billion bushels, which was increased by 200 million bushels above the March report. The projected corn ending stocks were nearly 90 million bushels above the average grain trade estimate. The 2019-20 corn ending stocks would be a decline from 2.22 billion bushels in 2018-19 and 2.14 billion bushels in 2017-18. USDA reduced the projected total corn used for ethanol in 2019-2020 by 375 million bushels, which projected increase of 150 million bushels in corn used for feed. The total corn usage for 2019-20 is now bushels, which is a decrease of over 400 million bushels from the 2018-19 level.

The March 31st USDA Planting Intentions Report is estimating total U.S. corn acreage for 2020 to be just shy of 97 million acres, which would be the highest level in several years. The 2020 projected corn acreage compares to 89.7 million in 2019 and 89.1 million acres in 2018. The 2019 corn acreage was greatly season and a large number was somewhat offset by a of prevented plant acres in some areas of the Midwest. If the 2020 U.S. average corn yield returns to "trend line" yield levels, which is near estimated at 13.86 billion 176 bushels per acre, corn ending stocks are likely to increase even more by the end of the 2020-21 marketing year. This is likely to put further downward pressure on the corn market prices.

USDA is now estimating the average U.S "onfarm" corn price for the 2019-20 marketing at $3.60 per bushel, which was a decline of $.20 per bushel from the March WASDE estimate. The current USDA projected corn price comimpacted by a late planting pares to the final national average prices of $3.61 per bushel for 2018-19 and $3.36 per bushel for 2017-18. The 2019-20 marketing year runs from September 1, 2019 to August 31, 2020, so further adjustments to the final market year average price could occur in the coming months.

SOYBEANS:

According to the April 9 WASDE Report, the projected soybean ending stocks for 2019-20 are now estimated at 480 million bushels, which was an increase of 55 million bushels from the March estimate.

The increase was primarily due to a projected reduction from one month to the next of 50 million bushels in final soybean export levels for 2019-20. The April carryover estimate was about 50 million above the average projections by grain marketing analysts. The projected 2019-20 U.S. soybean ending stocks level are still just over half of the 2018-19 soybean carryover level of 909 million bushels, which was impacted by the Chinese trade war and was the highest level ever recorded.

Based on the March 31st USDA Report, planted soybean acres for 2020 are projected at 83.5 million acres, which would be an increase of nearly 10 percent from 76.1 million acres in 2019. The planned 2020 soybean acreage is still well below the 89.2 million acres in 2018 and the record U.S. planted soybean acres of 90.2 million acres in 2017. Similar to corn, the final 2019 soybean acreage was reduced due to the late planting season and increased prevented plant acres in the Upper Midwest.

USDA is now estimating the U.S "on-farm" soybean price for the 2019-20 marketing year at an average price of $8.65 per bushel, which is decline of $.05 per bushel from the March estimate. The 2018-19 soybean market year average price was $8.48 per bushel, which was at lowest level since 2006. The projected 2019-20 soybean price also compares to final U.S. average soybean prices of $9.33 per bushel for 2017-18, $9.47 for 2016-17, and $8.95 per bushel for 2015-16.

Impacts of the lower projected corn and soybean prices

The March 31 USDA Grain Stocks Report estimated total corn stocks at 7.95 billion bushels and soybean stocks at 2.25 billion bushels, with over half of those grain stocks in onfarm storage. Many grain marketing analysts suspect that a large number of the on-farm grain stocks are in the Upper Midwest, with a high percentage of the corn and soybeans not yet priced. The sharp drop in local cash corn prices in recent weeks, following the coronavirus outbreak in the U.S. and reduced ethanol demand, is costing Midwest farmers millions of dollars. There has also been a fairly significant decline in cash soybean prices at many locations in recent weeks.

If there is a "silver lining" to the recent decline in corn and soybean prices, it would be that 2019 farm program payments may increase for many producers. The payments are based on the final 2019 market year average price (MYA) from September 1, 2019 through August 31, 2020. The decline in the projected 2019 corn MYA price to $3.60 per bushel means that there would be an estimated 2019 price loss coverage (PLC) payment of $.10 per bushel in October, 2020. A large number of Midwest corn producers switched from the ARC-CO program to the PLC program option for the 2019 and 2020 crop years. The lower projected 2019 MYA prices for corn and soybeans will also potentially increase estimated ARC-CO payment levels for corn and soybeans in some counties, as well as increase the ARC-IC levels for some producers that chose that farm program option for 2019.

What could change going forward?

There has been a drastic downturn in ethanol production and consumption in the past couple months due to the over-supply of oil worldwide and the coronavirus outbreak in the United States and around the World. Many ethanol plants in the U.S. have either cut back production or temporarily suspended production, which has greatly reduced the demand for corn in some locations in the could occur are adjust-that the overall Spring and Summer demand for gasoline, and ultimately for ethanol, will continue to be well below normal. This could result in further reductions in 2019-20 corn usage and increased levels of corn ending stocks, as well as additional reductions in the final 2019 corn MYA price, in future monthly WASDE Reports.

Obviously, the challenges in the ethanol industry and the rapid drop in corn prices since the coronavirus outbreak may lead some farm operators to consider switching some intended corn acres to soybeans and other crops. However, current soybean prices for the Fall of 2020 are also below breakeven levels for many producers. 2020 planting decisions will also be dictated by the amount

COVID-19 has presented challenges for many of the nation's farmers, including local ones. What can we do to help our farming community? In the shortterm, help get as many of your food dollars directly to farmers by:

- 1. Signing up for a CSA (Community-supported agriculture). This influx of cash now helps farmers buy seeds and tools at the beginning of their season, and allows you to be a stakeholder in a local farm. If you have the means, consider donating a CSA share to a family in need. Visit www.minnesotagrown.com
- 2. Ordering direct online. Many farmers offer delivery of organic produce and pastured meats, and more farmers are adding this service in the wake of the pandemic.
- 3. Be sure to fight to make sure farmers, and not just the corn and soybean farms that receive the bulk of traditional U.S. farm subsidies, are included in any coronavirus stimulus packages.

While we recognize that agriculture and all those who work in the industry are essential, none of us are invincible. Please do your part to protect your health and the health of those around you.

Continued from page 10 Lewis and Clark during the Corp of Discovery's epic adventure. In August 1804, the expedition found a flock of several hundred white pelicans resting on a sandbar about two miles north of the mouth of Little Sioux River in present-day Burt or Thurston County, Nebraska, and Monona County, Iowa. A pelican was shot and measured by Captain Meriwether Lewis. Its throat pouch was determined to have held five gallons of water.

State Farm Returning $2 billion dividend

In an effort to help customers during these challenging times, State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, the nation's largest auto insurer, is announcing up to a $2 billion dividend that will go to its auto insurance customers. With schools and businesses closed, and many of us sheltering in our homes, people are driving less right now, so we're returning value to customers as we anticipate fewer auto claims.

Customers do not need to take any action to receive this dividend, which will appear as a credit on their auto policy.

On average, State Farm Mutual auto customers can expect to receive a credit of about 25 percent of premium for the time period March 20 through May 31; exact percentages will vary by state. Every State Farm Mutual auto insurance customer will receive

Grants available to Veterans

Minnesota Veterans impacted by COVID-19 may be eligible for grants from the Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs (MDVA).

MDVA is now accepting applications from Minnesota Veterans who have been financially impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. MDVA will award one-time financial relief grants in the amount of $1,000. Funding is available for both Disaster Relief Grants and Special Needs Grants.

"We are grateful to Governor Walz and the Minnesota Legislature for their support of Minnesota Veterans in the recently enacted Emergency Response package," said MDVA Commissioner Larry Herke. "Minnesota Veterans have served our country in many past conflicts, so it is only right that we support them now during this challenging time."

Eligible Applicants must

A Veteran or the surviving spouse of a deceased Veteran as defined by MN Statute 197.447;

A Minnesota Resident,

Negatively financial impacted by COVID-19.

To apply for the Disaster Relief Grant:

Contact your local County Veterans Service Officer (CVSO) or MDVA Field Operations Representative at FO.MDVA@state.mn.us OR apply online at Minnesota-Veteran.org/COVIDRelief.

To apply for the Special Needs Grant:

Contact your local County Veterans Service Officer or MDVA Field Operations Representative.

To identify or contact your local CVSO, visit MACVSO.org. For more information, visit Minnesota-Veteran.org/COVIDRelief. credits applied against bills beginning as early as June. We'll continue to monitor our loss experience and respond appropriately.

"State Farm is returning value through a dividend to our customers," said Chairman, President and CEO Michael L. Tipsord. "We insure more cars than anyone and we see from our claims activity people are driving less."

We're committed to giving back not just to our customers, but to communities where we live and work by providing $5 million in donations across the country. These efforts are in direct response to COVID-19 and are focused on relief and recovery efforts.

We encourage customers facing financial challenges to call their State Farm agent. Agents are working with State Farm customers one-on-one providing payment options.
