The Jackson Road

Guest Columnist

Lenny Tvedten, Director, Martin County Historical Society

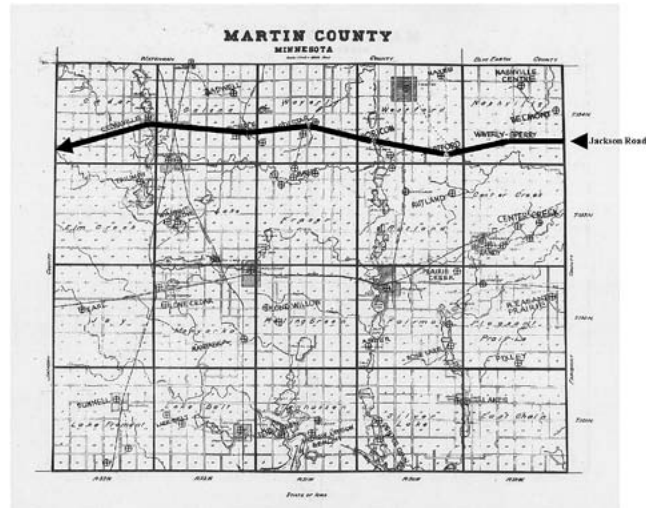

Today's travelers, whether for business or pleasure, have countless options in terms of routes to consider in reaching their destinations. Travel decisions can be based upon the quickest, the shortest, the least congested, or the most scenic, and those decisions are frequently determined by GPS navigation devices. However, in the 1850s travel options were not that abundant and were determined by considerably different aspects, and GPS was not an option.

The 1850s in Martin County saw the development of a highway that at that time could arguably rival today's Interstate-90 in terms of importance to the region. That highway was called the "Jackson Road," however, it in no way physically resembled I-90. It was established and marked by the government as the official route to the settlement on the Des Moines River called Springfield, whose name was later changed to Jackson. The "Jackson Road" stretched from Winnebago near the Blue Earth River to Jackson near the Des Moines River. Although perhaps similar to today's I-90 in terms of regional importance, it was very definitely a much different kind of thoroughfare than what the modern highway systems offer today.

The "Jackson Road" served many purposes. It was used by stagecoaches to carry mail to the post offices along the way in making their weekly trips. Those post offices being served at one time included Waverly, Westford, Horicon, North Star, Monroe, and Cedarville in Martin County. This route was also used by soldiers carrying supplies on wagon trains, settlers with ox drawn wagons, trappers, fur traders, and even Native Americans.

This "self-styled" highway of the 1850s undoubtedly saw thousands of hardy pioneers traveling west in search of a better tomorrow. Although called the "Jackson Road," as indicated on the map from "Martin County Postmasters and Post Offices" authored by Judge Julius E.

The exact course of the "Jackson Road" was out of necessity quite fluid as it ran without regard to section lines or borders and was influenced by other factors as well. It would generally follow the path of least resistance in terms of circumstances encountered such as terrain, rainfall, and mode of travel being utilized. Low lying areas were frequently avoided due to flooding and the exact path would also change as a result of rural post offices relocating.

Haycraft, there was more than one account as to its actual path. Its exact path undoubtedly varied greatly as a result of many diverse changes throughout the course of its existence. However, even though the exact path may have changed from time to time, it served many pioneers of that era in their journey west whether they were travelers, trappers, or soldiers.

Strawberry Rhubarb Muffins

It's strawberry picking time!

Last week my son Jason sent me a picture of the strawberries he had picked from his strawberry patch. You can't begin to compare fresh picked strawberries with the store bought ones! How I wished I lived closer. I know he would share with his dear old Mom!! I have great memories of growing up on the farm with fresh spring strawberries smothered with thick real cream and a little sugar, or the homemade strawberry shortcake my Mom used to make!

Jason shared this recipe for rhubarb/strawberry muffins given to him by a bed and breakfast in Duluth. He said they were great! I'm sharing the recipe with you so we can both try them!

Strawberry Rhubarb Muffins:

- 1 3/4 cup flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 1/2 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup buttermilk (milk can be substituted)
- 1/3 cup canola oil
- 1/2 tsp pure vanilla extract
- 1 cup diced rhubarb (fresh or frozen)
- 1 cup diced fresh strawberries (or raspberries, fresh or frozen)
- 1/2 cup confectioners sugar icing (recipe below)

In a large bowl stir together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. In a small bowl, beat together until well mixed, the egg, buttermilk (milk), oil and vanilla. Stir egg mixture into flour mixture just until all ingredients are moistened. Fold rhubarb and berries into batter. Divide the batter between 12 greased muffin cups. Bake in 400 degree oven for 20-25 minutes or until golden brown. Drizzle tops generously with confectioners sugar icing after baking. Yield: 12 muffins.

Confectioners Sugar Icing:

- 1 cup confectioners (powdered) sugar
- 1/4 tsp pure vanilla extract
- 2-3 Tbsp half-n-half

In a small mixing bowl, add vanilla to confectioners' sugar and stir in half-and-half until desired consistency is reached.

Yield: 1/2 cup

To the Editor:

STEP, Inc. would like to publicly acknowledge the generosity of the Martin County Area Foundation. The Foundation awarded us a sizable grant that we will use to upgrade the computers used by our staff and our clients. Many of the current machines are older than 5 years and are in need of being replaced by better equipment. The grant from the Foundation will allow us to purchase new and better equipment which will benefit us greatly. We would have been able to purchase one or two machines without the grant, but with the grant most of the staff and clients who use computers will receive an upgraded computer.

We would like area residents to know of the good work the Foundation is doing and to thank the Martin County Area Foundation for the assistance you have provided to us and to other area groups.

Sincerely

6th Annual Food Shelf Challenge

The Salvation Army and Open Your Heart to the Hungry and Homeless announce the 6th annual Food Shelf Challenge.

Open Your Heart to the Hungry and Homeless will proportionally match donations to food shelves during the month of July, which includes up to $5,000 in Fairmont. The more funds the food shelf raises during the month, the greater the matching grant from Open Your Heart to the Hungry and Homeless. In 2014, Minnesota food shelves raised over $1,000,000 with this grant and hope to raise even more this year.

Minnesota summers were made for trips to the cabin, boat rides on the lake, and farmer's market outings, not food shelf visits. But that's the unfortunate reality for thousands of Minnesotans. Children are home from school and the family budget is even tighter. Food shelves help provide nutritious fruits and vegetables to families and we need your help this summer. Donations in July will be proportionally matched thanks to Open Your Heart with a mission to help end hunger in Martin County. The Salvation Army continues to be committed to serving the needs of the local community and we are hopeful that the citizens of Martin County will continue their support of the Salvation Army food shelf.

"With the increased need throughout the year, we are asking you to help us meet our community goal to earn a $5,000 grant," said Major Dale Hixenbaugh, Fairmont Salvation Army Officer. "I'm certain that Martin County will help us fulfill our commitment to this effort, which will allow us to serve those who depend on us to meet basic human needs."

You can support The Salvation Army food shelf by dropping off non-perishable food items to The Salvation Army at 114 East Blue Earth Avenue in Fairmont or by calling 507-238-9797. Financial donations are also being accepted and can be sent directly to The Salvation Army at P.O. Box 167, Fairmont, MN 56031.

Ask A Trooper: Electronic Proof of Insurance

by Sgt. Troy Christianson, MN State Patrol

Question: I have a question regarding electronic proof of auto insurance. I no longer receive a paper printout of my proof of auto insurance, is this acceptable if a person is required to show it on a traffic stop or crash?

Answer: Yes, as long as the driver or registered owner can show the current auto insurance electronically (mobile phone or other means electronically). Every driver, including a motorcyclist, must have proof of insurance and display it on demand of a peace officer.

Proof of insurance may be presented electronically pursuant to Minn. Stat. sec. 60A.139, subd. 2. Failure to display proof of insurance is a misdemeanor or a gross misdemeanor if it is a third violation within 10 years pursuant to Minn. Stat. sec. 169.791, subd. 2.

"Delivered by electronic means" includes, delivery to an e-mail address at which a party has consented to receive notices or documents or posting on an electronic network or web site accessible via the internet, mobile application, computer, mobile device, tablet, or other electronic device, together with separate notice of posting, which must be provided by electronic mail to the address at which the party has consented to receive notice or by any other delivery method that has been consented to by the party.

If your electronic device is not working (dead battery on your phone, website not accessible, no service, etc.), you could be cited for "no proof of insurance." I recommend that you print a copy of your insurance card in case your electronic equipment is unable to display your proof of insurance and keep it in your vehicle.

Birding BITS BY Cindy Brook

Hawks vs. Doves

A sharp-shinned hawk has been patrolling my yard, catching doves for an evening meal. While I understand this is nature, it is a bit unsettling to watch. One way to protect the doves is to toss seed on the ground near brush cover. The doves always find it.

Jeff's Jottings

The July 4th holiday turned out to be a great day for activities, grilling out, camping, boating and many other things. Karis and I spent much of the day up at Heritage Acres helping volunteer for their annual Music Festival. I was amazed at the number of people that showed up for the festival and also to check out Market Square on the hill! The Freedom 5K Walk/Run/Bike event was a huge success with a large number of participants taking part in the event, which was

Look! Up in the sky! It's...smoke from Canada?

Speaking of the weather and sunshine, residents around this area were "treated" to some orange colored skies last week. According to news reports, some wildfires in Canada were creating a lot of smoke and that smoke drifted down as far as Des Moines, Iowa. The smoke made the sun appear like it was behind a screen and the sky had a bright orange appearance for a few days. During sunrise and sunset, the sun was times we as adults need to take a break from our busy lives and just look up at the clouds to see what we can imagine they are. So what do you see in this photo of the clouds?

Head high by the 4th of July?

In last week's column I had made a comment about the crops around the area and how we could throw out the "knee high by the Fourth of July" phrase since the corn would be at least waist to chest high. Boy, was I off on that! Our neighbor, Mary Kittleson, snapped a photo of her husband (or we at least assumed it was him) in the cornfield and all we could see was part of his arm sticking up out of the cornfield. Bob is around 6 feet tall, so that tells you just how much the corn has grown in the past few weeks. In fact, it looked like some corn fields in the area are not that far off from tassel - which is amazing for that to take place near the fourth of July. With the rain that we received Monday morning, that should help push the corn and soybean crop along even more so with the heat and humidity combined!

You say, "activities." I say, "get out there!"

Before I go this week, I want to make sure you know about some of the activities that are taking place around this area in the coming days. This weekend the community of Trimont will be buzzing with activity as they celebrate the Trimont Fun-fest from Friday, July 10th through Sunday, July 12th with all kinds of events, competitions, great food and of course, a parade. On Saturday, July 11th, the "Breaking the Silence" 5K Run/Walk/Bike will take place at Jeffery Kot Fields in Fairmont, starting at 8:00 a.m. On Monday, July 13th Martin County Youth For Christ will hold their 14th Annual "Golf Fore the Kids" at Interlaken Golf Club in Fairmont. The day begins with lunch from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and shotgun starts for golf at 1:00 p.m. On Tuesday, July 14th in the morning, St. Peter Lutheran Church in Ceylon hosts the Tuesday morning coffee. On Wednesday, July 15th Immanuel Lutheran Church in Dunnell will hold a Barbeque and Pie Social at the church from 5 to 7 p.m. Lots of great things happening in the coming week!

Have a great week!

Drive safely - visit a shut-in or family member - Eat, Play, Shop Local - look up and imagine!

based out of the Fairmont Armory. The lakes in and around Fairmont were packed with boaters out enjoying the sunshine and already by mid-morning all the good viewing areas around the lakes were already reserved with people parking in their favorite spots along boulevards and in the parks so they could get a good viewing position for the fireworks on Saturday night. I visited with some people who went to Armstrong, Iowa's Fourth of July activities and they said there were a lot of people at that event also. All in all it was a great weekend to be outside and enjoy the sunshine.

a very bright red and it provided lots of good opportunities for photographers to snap some great shots with their cameras. My wife Karis loves taking pictures of clouds, the sun, and generally nature as a whole outdoors and then she posts them on Facebook for others to enjoy. She was able to snap this shot of the sun setting late in the evening last week and also took a shot of the clouds one other evening with the sun behind them. I can remember as a kid lying on the grass looking up at the clouds in the sky and trying to imagine what the various clouds were shaped like. Some-

A Rose-y History and Reunion

92 years ago, 21-year-old Henry Rose decided to come to America. Born and raised in Germany,

Henry was a carpenter's apprentice who was looking for a new start in life. Henry needed a sponsor in order to travel and luckily, his uncle living in America was able to sponsor him.

Once here, Henry settled in Welcome, Minnesota. He attended country school in order to learn the language and better understand life in America. "Here's this grown man who went to country school," DeElda Rose of Welcome says laughing. Henry worked on a farm to earn room and board while attending school. "I remember Grandpa telling me his first job when he got here he got a quarter an hour and he couldn't believe getting that much money," DeElda says.

DeElda is married to Aldor Rose, Henry's son. Henry married Sophia from Truman and they had three children. Henry worked for a carpenter in Welcome and eventually started his own business called Rose Construction. He built many houses and quite a few are still standing. DeElda explains that her husband and son worked in this business as well. "Our son has great memories working with his grandparents," she says. DeElda also expresses how glad she is to have men in their family to carry on the family name.

Henry's entire family usually got together on the Fourth of July for a reunion. Since Henry's passing ten years ago at age 103, the reunions became scarcer. June 27th, 2015 was the first time this family has been together in five years.

Held at Hansen-Keck Park in Welcome, two of Henry's children and their families came to look back and remember their family history. After meeting at the park, the family visited the gravesites of Henry and Sophia in the Welcome cemetery. Around 50 relatives were present coming from all over the country. Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Washington state all contain relatives who made this important trip to Minnesota.

"The kids think it's special to get together to reminisce about Grandpa and Grandma," says DeElda. This is the joy of family reunions: to create memories while remembering past ones.

Welcome TV gets ready to help Welcome celebrate 125 years

by Bridget (Godden) Blue, Welcome TV

In the eyes of many, the television may be a symbol of what is wrong in America, but for my family, it's been a platform for showing what is right about our small town family-run business. As we celebrate Welcome's 125th birthday next week, I am so proud to say that my family has been here for almost half of those years.

I am Bridget (Godden) Blue and I am (as my father says) "The current face of Welcome TV" in Welcome.

a radio or on the sales floor showing some of the new products to his loyal customers. "Gidget," he'd say to me, "Be honest, be fair, be nice and treat everyone with respect." I guess you could call that his 'motto for life' and that motto has become my core belief to this day and will remain so into the future.

From the very beginning, Val, a veteran in both WW II and the Korean Conflict, decided that he wanted to help out some of his fellow servicemen who'd been less fortunate than he was. Over the years, Welcome TV held promotions that were not holds. With some of the new changes in television and higher demand for in-home family entertainment, Welcome TV hired Travis Rosenberg in 1990 as a service technician, UHF/satellite installer and deliveryman. Travis was just months out of college and brought fresh, new skills and knowledge to the business.

When I was a young girl, home entertainment was showing my little sister how much fun it was to write on the house with charcoal. (Yeah, that wasn't such a great idea.) Now, you can find out how charcoal is made from the YouTube video app on your Smart TV! Heck, you can even watch it in 3D if you like!

When I was asked to write down a bit of our history and reflect on the changes that have happened over the years in our small town business, I'd like to say for the most part things have been great. Small town folk tend to support small town business, but if I said sales never declined over the years, I'd be lying.

With the introduction of the internet and online shopping, Big-Box stores and discount brands too numerous to count, we saw sales drop over the years. However the last few years things have taken an upswing. People are coming back to their local dealer. Yes, in some instances you might pay a little more, but what you pay for is great customer service, years of repair experience and a product that we are willing to stand behind.

Our televisions are still repairable. We would not sell them if they weren't. In the last few years people are beginning to see the value in service and repair.

That value means more to them than the deal itself.

Today, just about every household has a television, but few bother to get them repaired. Some assume that technology is changing so quickly and is so complicated now that people aren't knowledgeable enough to repair a newer TV. Others assume that a repair would cost more than replacing the TV. Neither of these reasons are necessarily valid.

It was a big deal when TVs began showing color and then they introduced the remote control and from there, add-on components like VCRs, Laser Discs, Camcorders and DVDs were introduced. Now TVs are in High-Definition, and can be anything from Plasma, DLP, LCD, LED and most recently OLED and Ultra HD.

Personally, what do I want you to know about my vision for the future of Welcome TV? I want to run a small town family business just like my grandfather and father have done so well for the last 61 years. I want people to come back to the 'local guy' and know that we appreciate each and every one of you. We value your patronage. I want you to stop in just to say "Hello" and take a look around. I want to be in a position to give back to the community just like Grandpa and Dad did. In essence, I want our future to be similar to our past. I want to know that Grandpa Val looks down and is so proud of what we accomplished. That's what I want the most.

Blue Earth Town & Country Players Lifetime Member Award

The Blue Earth Town & Country Players have announced Carolyn Oanes as the 2015 recipient of their Life Member Award.

This award is given annually to someone who has demonstrated commitment to community theater over a number of years through their involvement and support.

"The caliber of participants are not only highly talented but some of the dearest people I know."

Oanes has been active as a performer on flute and piccolo in many pit orchestras for summer musical theater productions, starting in 1999 with "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." Two of her other favorites were "Beauty and the Beast" and "Singin' In the Rain." This summer's "Honk!" will bring the total to 14 shows.

Oanes came to the area in the late 1970s, teaching special education first in East Chain, and later in Fairmont. She is involved with church music ministry at Bethel Evangelical Free Church. Oanes is a 30 year member of the flute/piccolo section of the Fairmont City Band and is a board member of that group. She and her husband, Paul, are the proud parents of two delightful children - daughter Christina (married to Army Ranger Sgt. David Meyer) and son Josh - all of whom serve in the military.

Oanes commented "I REALLY enjoy the BET&CP people. The caliber of participants are not only highly talented but some of the dearest people I know. I am humbled to be a part of this fine group of artists."

I started working at Welcome TV in the mid-70's. I would stop in on Saturday mornings to dust all the console TVs for a quarter and occasionally Grandpa would hook up a microphone and I'd belt out Tanya Tucker's version of "Delta Dawn" over the PA for passers-by. I officially entered the business in 1997 as my grandfather, Val Godden, was considering retirement. Let me give you a bit of our history.

My grandparents, Val and Eva Godden, opened Welcome TV in 1954. You would often find Eva at her desk as the bookkeeper and she ran the day to day business operations, while Val could be found in the repair shop leaning over only great for business, but it allowed them to give back to the community. Veteran's homes, hospitals, churches and schools were just some recipients of Welcome TV's generosity.

In 1969, shortly after graduating from Brown Institute in Mpls., Curt Godden, my father, joined the business, which now included the addition of my great-uncle, Bill Monk. It truly was a family run business. Welcome TV's service area grew far beyond the 20-mile radius that it once claimed. We now traveled throughout Southern Minnesota and Northern Iowa.

During the 1980's, the introduction of cable TV and satellite dishes made television more prevalent in American house-

Heritage Acres Music Festival

Hundreds of people turned out for the Heritage Acres Music Festival on July 4th, an annual tradition of good food and music. Steve Lang and Barefoot Becky dominated the main stage while a variety of musical acts performed in the Fairmont Market Square music tent. A variety of activities were available for children including giant checkers and four-in-a-row near the Iron Grid, giant bubble blowing near the one-room schoolhouse and train rides on the Cannonball Express. All of the exhibits were also open including the chapel, the pioneer cabin, and the homestead.

The free event was made possible through a grant from the Prairie Lakes Regional Arts Council from funds appropriated by the Minnesota State Legislature. (Photos by Karis Hagen)

Naturally

by Al Batt

I listened to a catbird singing; roaring like a lion demanding to be heard. There is an honor in listening along the mighty Le Sueur.

The Le Sueur River has its source in the township in which I live. The river flows north. Many people find that odd, but water flows in one direction. That direction is downhill.

When I was a boy, kids gathered at the bridge situated on a gravel road known for its infrequent and slow-moving traffic. We called the river a creek and it was amazing. We dropped small sticks from one side of the bridge and then scampered to the other side to see which stick won the race. The winner got to make a wish. One of my wishes must have been that I'd always find fascination in simple things.

Three small grandchildren gathered lightning bugs. They carried on a tradition. I'd done the same thing at their age. They brought the insects in a victory march. They released them unharmed in exultation. We gather experiences just as we gather fireflies. A few days earlier, I'd seen northern lights dancing across the sky. They had nothing on the fireflies. I go forward in hope.

Q-and-A

"Do any birds hibernate?" The common poorwill can slow its metabolic rate and drop its body temperature, allowing it to go into a hibernation-like state called torpor. Although probably not a true hibernation, torpor allows the poorwill to go long periods without food and helps it survive cold weather when insect prey isn't available.

"Why is it called a 'birdie' in golf?" Birdie means a score of one stroke under par. It comes from the early 20th century American slang term "bird," meaning excellent. Eagle, a score of two under par for a hole, was a natural extension on the theme of birds. Albatross, the term for three under par, is a British term.

"What could I do to attract a harpy eagle to my yard?" Move to the tropical forests of Central and South America, somewhere from southern Mexico to Argentina. The harpy eagle preys primarily on tree-dwelling mammals like sloths, monkeys and opossums. Its talons can be as large as the claws of a grizzly bear.

"Where did the term 'turkey' come from in bowling?" Getting three strikes in a row is called a "turkey." According to the Professional Bowlers Association, in the late 1800s and early 1900s, bowling alleys awarded prizes, often a live turkey, to those bowling three consecutive strikes during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons. After the third strike, bowlers yelled, "Turkey!" It wasn't easy to bowl consecutive strikes then. Bowling alleys used pin boys to set up pins instead of the automated pin-setting machines of today. Manually set pins lacked consistency in placement. Bowling balls didn't have the advanced technology that allows for better control today. Six consecutive strikes are called a wild turkey and nine consecutive strikes are a golden turkey.

Glenda Batt of Albert Lea asked about yellowjackets. A yellowjacket is a black and yellow wasp, relatively slender with few hairs. Honey bees are brown and black, and more hairy than yellowjackets. Yellowjacket nests hang from trees, are attached to buildings, are hidden in cavities such as wall voids in buildings or are subterranean as in old rodent burrows. Honey bees typically nest in artificially constructed hives, but will nest in cavities. Honey bees don't nest in the ground, but bumble bees do. Bumble bees are stout, black and yellow, and hairy. Both yellowjackets and bumble bees have annual nests, lasting one year. They die when freezing temperatures arrive. Honey bees have perennial nests that survive winters and can last years. Yellowjackets are important predators of caterpillars and flies, but do minimal pollinating. In late summer and fall, they become aggressive in their appetites for our foods. The only yellowjackets that survive the winter are newly mated queens that have left the nest. Next spring, they start nests in different sites.

Planning The Perfect Family Reunion

(NAPS)—If you are like most people in America, you've probably been to a family reunion.

According to a recent survey by the global independent research company Ipsos, 63 percent of respondents have been to a family reunion, with 29 percent attending a reunion in the past two years.

How We Reunion

The average length of a family reunion trip is five days and includes eight adults and four children.

Families' most cherished reunion memories are simply made of "spending time together" (81 percent), followed by group meals (60 percent). In fact, more than half of respondents also said "cooking great food" is the best way to impress the family.

The top ways to offend family members are "drinking too much" (28 percent), followed closely by "paying too much attention to your phone or tablet" (26 percent) and "being a cheapskate" (15 percent).

One-third of travelers selected a vacation rental as the ideal accommodation for a family reunion. Vacation rentals are generally twice the space at half the cost of a hotel room, and offer vital amenities for families to spend time, cook, eat, play and make lasting memories together all under the same roof.

How To Plan a Reunion

The survey reveals more than half of reunion-goers begin to plan for their family's event six to 12 months in advance. Therefore, Edith Wagner, editor of Reunions magazine and www.reunionsmag.com, says it's never too soon to start organizing your family reunion and offers these five tips to get started:

1. Don't do it alone. Survey the family's skills and talents, and ask for volunteers. Recruit good cooks to cater a picnic, ask teens to set up and maintain web and Facebook pages and ask a financial whiz to be your treasurer.

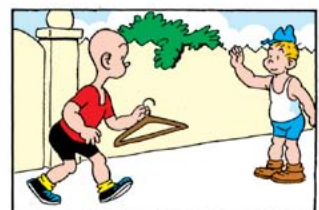

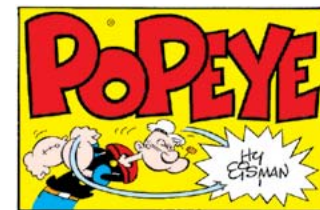

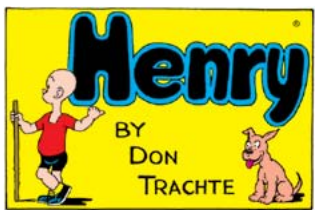

2. Set a date and stick to it. Check with others to see if there are any conflicts, such as weddings or graduations. Send a save-the-date message and do not change the date under any circumstances.

3. Location, location, location. Like all things in life, location can make or break a reunion. Any spot where families can go on vacation is also suitable for family reunions, as long as there is space to house the attendees. HomeAway.com offers a "sleeps" sort function where you can select the number of people to accommodate, which can help with trip planning.

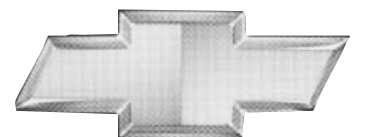

4. Make it affordable. When it comes to family reunions, planners need to take into account the ages, abilities, resources and life stages of attendees. Make your choices with all income levels in mind so that the reunion is affordable for everyone.

5. Plan something for everyone ... but don't overplan. Know your reunion members and their interests to plan activities that will involve all ages and passions. For example, if golf is important—as it is to 20 percent of reunions—make sure it is on the agenda. That said, remember to include time to just sit, talk, reminisce and be together.

1. Name the Cuban song made famous by the Sandpipers.
2. Which Al Green song was covered by both Foghat (1976) and the Talking Heads (1978)?
3. Who released "What Becomes of the Broken Hearted"?
4. Paul Rodgers was lead singer for which hard rock '70s band?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "Going where the weather suits my clothes, banking off of the northeast wind, Sailing on a summer breeze, and skipping over the ocean like a stone."

Answers

1. "Guantanamera," in 1966. Widely covered, the song's title translates into "She from Guantanamo." In Cuba there was a lawsuit, finally settled in 1993, about who had originally written the song in 1929.
2. "Take Me to the River," written by Green in 1974.
3. Jimmy Ruffin, in 1966. The song originally had a spoken intro, which was replaced with an extra-long instrumental.
4. Bad Company.
5. "Everybody's Talkin'," by Harry Nilsson in 1966, netting a Grammy for the song in the film "Midnight Cowboy." Songwriter Fred Neil had recorded it in one take because he wanted to get home to Miami and the ocean. For a real treat, go to YouTube and compare both versions.

Mayo Clinic Health System Q&A

It's been an honor to be part of such an eventful and encouraging summer so far. Beyond the Red Line was highly successful because of the engagement of the community and our staff. Additionally, we had the privilege of announcing the $4.5 million Emergency Department expansion project for the medical center. There's plenty of news to cover, so without further ado, here are the latest medical center questions and answers.

Q. What is happening with the local Emergency Department?

A. After years of conversations and planning, we officially announced on June 26th that Mayo Clinic Health System in Fairmont will begin an Emergency Department (ED) expansion project this summer. We anticipate construction will begin in the next few months.

Because of the hard work, dedication and compassionate care of our employees, more patients are coming to the medical center. In particular, our ED has become a trusted source of emergency services for the region. This preference and demand, as well as our commitment to top-tier patient care, requires that we expand and enhance the ED to best meet the needs of our patients. Mayo Clinic is investing in Fairmont and investing in community-based health care.

The renovated ED will feature:

- Private triage space
- Expanded waiting room and private family meeting room
- 10 updated, larger, private patient rooms
- Contemporary medical technology
- Covered drive-through ambulance garage
- Emergency decontamination services space
- Behavioral health treatment and holding areas

We're creating a physical space that reflects the quality of care we're able to provide to the community.

Q. What is the Distracted Driving Simulator that Mayo Clinic Health System recently purchased?

A. Mayo Clinic Health System foundations in Fairmont, Mankato, New Prague, Springfield, St. James and Waseca contributed to help purchase a $12,100 distracted driving simulator. The simulator includes a portable computer screen, gaming system, projector and goggles that mimic impaired vision. Projections are adjustable in size and can accommodate groups from small to large. Mayo Clinic Health System Trauma Services staff are available to bring the simulator to events, such as fairs, schools and driver's education classes, as well as businesses. The goal is to change the culture of driving and prevent distracted driving habits.

If you're part of a group that's interested in hosting a free demonstration, contact Peggy Sue Garber at 507-238-8696.

Q. How and why is the medical center using telemedicine?

A. Mayo Clinic Health System in Fairmont is employing telemedicine (use of telecommunications technology) to connect our patients with Mayo Clinic's specialized health care providers easier and faster. Telemedicine helps patients get the care they need here in Fairmont and provides specialized support to the local care team. Local examples include telestroke and Enhanced Critical Care in the progressive care unit.

The state of Minnesota recognized the value of telemedicine this past legislative session by adopting two bills to remove barriers to the adoption of telemedicine services. Sen. Julie Rosen spearheaded efforts to address reimbursement policies that haven't kept pace with technology. The legislature overwhelmingly passed this legislation, which addresses licensure issues associated with telemedicine.

Q. Are there any event updates?

A. Mayo Clinic Health System in Fairmont is proud to sponsor the Fairmont Summer Run July 25th at Bonk Track at Fairmont Jr/Sr High School. Watch for our employees in their Mayo Clinic Team shirts. If you wish to register for the Fairmont Summer Run, call the Community Education and Recreation office at 507-235-3141.

Mayo Clinic Health System in Fairmont was a Gold Level sponsor for Relay for Life of Martin County on June 27th. Our team was Angels Among Us in honor of coworkers who have passed away and those who have survived. At the event, we had a dunk tank, served tacos in a bag, provided chair massages and raised money through a pie in the face fundraiser and Coffee for a Cure.

Our employee team raised more than $5,000 and will continue to receive donations through August.

-Marie Morris, M.D., Medical Director
-Bob Bartingale, Administrator

25 YEARS AGO IN THE PHOTO PRESS

WEEK OF JULY 11, 1990

Fleet & Farm Supply used the front page of the Photo Press for its Anniversary Sale. The store was located at 800 East Blue Earth Avenue, and announced a new remodeled back entrance. Black & Decker power tools and pop specials was featured in the ad.

Janet Ruth, President of the Salvation Army Women's Auxiliary, thanked the public for the tremendous support shown at the 2nd annual Family fun Fest & Lip Sync Contest. Over $10,000 was raised in less than 4 hours.

Iowa Eye Institute P.C. was to open soon in Fairmont. The eye clinic and surgery center was owned by Dennis D. Gordy, M.D., F.A.C.S. and was headquartered in Spencer, Iowa.

David E. Kabes, Martin County Extension Agent, noted that the second hatch of grasshoppers had materialized, mostly in fence rows and road ditches. In some areas some control measures would have to be used.

Bob Millette, member of the Fairmont Education Association, attended the National Education Association Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

50 YEARS AGO IN THE PHOTO PRESS

WEEK OF JULY 11, 1965

The Photo Press printed front page pictures of scenes from "Babes in Arms," the first presentation of the newly-formed civic Summer Theatre. Two weekend performances were to be followed by two more the following week at Hand's Park Ballroom south of the city. The ballroom had been converted into a theatre by volunteers with hundreds of hours labor, and the play was well received. Some of the original founders of the civic theatre group are still in Fairmont today, and the theatre has thrived for 25 years with at least two productions each summer.

The city was construction horseshoe courts at Lincoln Park, adding to similar courts in Gomsrud and Ward Parks. The sites were lighted and open until 11 p.m. each day.
