SERVING MARTIN COUNTY PLUS ADJACENT MINNESOTA & IOWA COUNTIES

2020 Martin County & City of Fairmont Legal Newspaper

A Doggone Worthy Profession

Guest Columnist

Lenny Tvedten, Director, Martin County Historical Society

"Through the ages, people have claimed dogs as one of their closest, and best, companions. Of all the domesticated animals, dogs serve the widest array of roles: protector, helper, lifesaver, and companion. Dogs are incredible friends to people, and they have been companions through centuries. The relationship between dogs and people is deep and old."

"In 2017, there were about 89.7 million pet dogs in the United States. That is a lot of dogs to keep healthy and happy, and the importance of dog grooming is a good place to start. All dogs need some grooming, though the type and amount varies by breed. Clean fur and proper grooming help eliminate pests and maintain the health and wellness of your companion pet."

So, if you have a pet dog how do you care for it? Some may prefer bathing and caring for the pets needs at home. However, others may prefer taking their pet to a professional groomer. A professional groomer does more than merely shampoo and cut the dogs hair. They can also be a first line of identifying potential health problems that should be referred to a veterinarian as well as advising clients as to the proper care of their pet.

One professional groomer that served Martin County for many years was Dee McCauley. Her business, Dee's Pet Grooming Salon, was located at 322 East Blue Earth Avenue in Fairmont for many years.

Dee, a Trimont native, attended school in Trimont but graduated from Mountain View High School in Mountain View, California. Following graduation, she returned to Minnesota and attended Macalester College. After college, she was employed as a stewardess for TWA. While working for TWA, she met and married her husband, Dr. M. E. McCauley. They moved to Dayton, Ohio, where she became active in professional dog handling as well as judging. This eventually led her to open the first licensed school for dog grooming in Ohio.

After her husband passed away in 1969, she moved to Fairmont in 1972 and later opened her pet grooming salon on Blue Earth Avenue in 1973. To get her business up and running, she needed to purchase a building for her salon. However, back in 1973 she found that loans were difficult, if not impossible, to be had by single women. Consequently, through the help of a relative cosigning, she was able to secure the loan and purchase the building on Blue Earth Avenue for her business.

Her grooming services included combing out the dog's hair, trimming the nails, bathing the dog, drying the dog, checking the ears, and clipping the coat following the bath. Another important aspect a professional groomer will accomplish is checking for any potential health concerns that may not be evident to the owner and informing the pet owner about them. Dee also stressed the importance of gaining the pet's trust first to have a successful grooming experience.

However, Dee's impact and influence on pet care was more than merely grooming dogs. She was an advocate for dogs in many respects. In the early 1970s she was instrumental in starting the Fairmont Kennel Club. She would educate new dog owners on how to properly care for their pets. She would advise and help new dog breeders with their first litter of pups. She was involved with dog shows and assisting those new to dog shows how to groom and prepare their dogs for the show. In addition, it was not uncommon for dog owners to call her before calling the veterinarian to get advice and insight on a pet's health issue.

As pet owners are aware, our four-footed friends become loved and trusted members of the family. Proper care and grooming are important. Consequently, the selection of a pet groomer is an important decision for the benefit of the pet and pet owner alike.

Schmeckle Foundation Awards $79,700 in Grants

The Schmeckle Foundation recently approved grants totaling $79,700 for community enhancement projects in Martin County, Minnesota.

These grants support the Schmeckle Foundation's three core focus areas: early childhood care and education, serving the disabled and elderly, and promoting the arts.

The Schmeckle Foundation is a private family foundation serving Martin County, Minnesota. Its mission is to carry on the legacy of long-time Martin County resident, Juanita Ellen (Teubner) Schmeckle, to provide grants for the betterment of Martin County.

"The Schmeckle Foundation Grants are designed to support projects which are innovative, involve collaboration, and achieve sustainable, measurable results," say the Schmeckle Foundation Trustees. Grants are reviewed by the four trustees with assistance from the Southern Minnesota Initiative Foundation.

Grants are awarded based on their likelihood to create measurable change within the Foundation's three core focus areas. This round of grantees includes:

•$32,200 to Granda Huntley East Chain School for Revitalizing the GHEC Music Education Program and Early Childhood Technology.

•$2,500 to Highland Echoes Community Show and Arts Learning Experience at the Fairmont Opera House.

On Aug. 21, Cayden Fischer of Truman, joined Buena Vista University's largest freshmen class in seven years in the Convocation celebration. More than 250 freshmen and transfer students were welcomed by returning BVU students, staff members, and coaches who donned masks and handed out water in a streamlined move-in process on the first day of Welcome Week on campus.

Each member of the incoming class visited with BVU Interim President Dr. Brian Lenzmeier and his wife, Betsy, before proceeding through the University's famous Victory Arch, a Beavers tradition for decades. The next time each student will pass through the Victory Arch is on their graduation day as the class proceeds toward its Commencement ceremony. Buena Vista University is headquartered in Storm Lake, Iowa.

•$40,000 to Project 1590, Inc. for Lead for Fairmont.

•$5,000 to Project 1590, Inc. - Kids Just Want to Have Fun for Miniature Golf Expansion.

Applications for the next grant period are due September 30, 2020.

For details on applying for a Schmeckle Foundation Grant, or to learn about our trustees and advisory committee, please visit our website at schmecklefoundation.org.

Delicious Peaches

Generally this time of year we are enjoying the treat of Colorado Peaches! We did buy good peaches at the beginning of the peach season but that was a short lived treat. We were told by the local grocery stores that they received a very limited supply of Colorado peaches this year because of weather conditions in Colorado. We tried another brand that were a dismal disappointment. Then to my surprise I discovered that peaches can actually be grown in Minnesota, probably not by just anyone, but my friends Mary and David Segar have a peach tree and harvested their first crop of peaches. Mary said they are delicious! Who would have guessed?! We are too old to try to plant a peach tree, we probably wouldn't live long enough to see the first harvest but some of you could try!

Peach Muffins

1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg, room temperature
1 1/2 cup flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup yogurt or sour cream
1 cup chopped peaches, small pieces
1 cup chopped pecans (optional)

Cream butter and sugar, add egg, beat well, add flour, baking powder, then beat in vanilla and yogurt. Lastly fold in peaches and pecans. Divide between 12 greased muffin tins bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

Stay safe and have a good week!

Obituary Notices

Shirley Malherek, 75

A beloved wife and mother, Shirley Sheely Malherek, originated in East Chain, MN. She and her husband Tim relocated to Riverton, MN in 1979.

An active outdoor enthusiast, she and Tim regularly camped, hunted, fished and always appreciated the beauty of the Cuyuna Range and the resiliency of its inhabitants. Being adventurer by nature she and her husband of 56 years traveled across the nation and world exploring various environments and cultures. Between SCUBA diving the Grand Cayman Islands to walking the Roman Coliseum, each day was interpreted as an opportunity for another adventure.

Shirley will be remembered as an avid bird watcher, wild life enthusiast and essential member of Riverton's community, regularly providing administrative support to the city council.

Shirley lost her 6-month battle with cancer on August 3, 2020, while resting peacefully, close to family and friends and under conditions she set.

Along with her parents,

Floyd and Viola Sheely, Shirley was preceded in death by sisters Barbara (Doerr) and Helen (Rolling). Left to cherish her memory are husband Tim of Riverton, MN; son Jeff and wife Marti of Spokane, WA; sister Marlene (Howard) Anderson of Truman; brothers Dick and Ed, both of Mankato and Paul (Diane) of Fairmont plus many nieces and nephews.

In honoring Shirley's wishes, no funeral service or viewing will be offered. The Malherek family asks to be allowed to mourn in private.

Diane moved with her husband Tim to Big Fork

when they retired in 2000. They built their dream home on Lost Lake, enjoying fishing, gardening, baking and spending time with family.

Diane is survived by her loving husband and best friend Tim; children Thomas (Jody) West, Sheri (Brian) Krenz and Kylene (Mark) Kreykes; grandchildren Nicholas (Tierney), Ellah, Brielle, Gunner and Garrett, and her first great grandchild, Evelyn Rae.

Diane was predeceased by her parents, sister and her mother and father-in-law.

Memorials can be sent to 2217 W. Dream Drive, North Mankato, MN 56003.

Memorial services will be held at a later date.

Leonard E. Jorgenson, 94

Memorial Service for Leonard "Lenny" Jorgenson, age 94, of Sherburn, MN, formerly of Rochester, MN, will be 10:30 a.m., Thursday, September 10, 2020 at the Lakeview Funeral Home in Fairmont. Visitation will be held one hour prior to the service at the funeral home. Burial will be at St. Paul's United Church of Christ Cemetery in Pleasant Prairie Township with full military honors by the Lee C. Prentice American Legion Post #36 and Martin County Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #1222.

In accordance with the Governor's mandate, the use of face masks and adhering to social distancing is required during the visitation and memorial service. Those wishing to watch the service are asked to follow the live stream link: <https://client.tribuncast.com/tcid/76334815>.

Lenny passed away Tuesday afternoon, August 18, 2020 at Temperance Lake Ridge in Sherburn. The Lakeview Funeral Home and Cremation Service in Fairmont is assisting the family with arrangements.

Leonard Eugene Jorgenson was born February 13, 1926 in Comstock, Wisconsin, the youngest son of Theodore Jorgenson and Grace (Scribner) Jorgenson. Lenny attended Cumberland Public Schools until 1940. Eventually, his family moved to Fairmont.

Lenny served in the Navy during WWII on the destroyer, USS Ingersoll, in the South Pacific. He was honorably discharged on February 12, 1947. When he returned home, he was united in marriage to Marion Armstrong. This union was blessed with five children: Rene Jorgenson, Jerry Jorgenson, Nancy (Chet) Starkey, Jean (Duane) Murray, and Donald (Denise) Jorgenson.

Lenny worked for Mallon Egg in Fairmont, Farmer's Creamery, a truck driver, and for the Fairmont Fire Department. He was active in the American Legion and the VFW.

On May 28, 1965, Lenny was united in marriage to Joyce (Riegel) Swanson. Lenny and Joyce made their home in the Rochester area. They enjoyed playing cards, dancing, and traveling with their camping group. Lenny loved deer hunting every year and he loved to fish--he didn't like to eat fish, but he really liked to catch them. They enjoyed spending time with family and friends.

20 Tips for Safer Fuel Usage

When it comes to handling any type of fuel, knowledge and caution are essential, warn experts. "Knowledge is a powerful accident prevention tool," says Dan Marshall, vice president of marketing and business development with Scepter, a longtime leader in the fuel container industry. With that in mind, Marshall shares the following tips:

Fuel Storage

1. Seek out containers with a user-controlled flow valve, child safety features and a flame mitigation device (FMD) for safety. Never remove or alter the FMD.

2. Only purchase fuel containers approved by federal or state authorities. For example, the Scepter SmartControl fuel containers for gasoline, kerosene and diesel, are designed to substantially exceed standards set by the American Society for Testing and Materials and the Consumer Product Safety Commission standards.

3. Store fuel containers in a secure, dry location away from furnaces, hot water tanks and any other potential source of heat sliding.

10. Never leave filled containers in car trunks or the flat bed of pickup trucks, and keep out of direct sunlight.

Outdoor Chores

11. Use fuel outside only, in well-ventilated areas where you will not breathe in the fumes.

12. Gasoline is a fluid with fumes that can generate dangerous explosive power. Keep gasoline away from ignition sources and hot or running equipment.

13. If you run out of fuel during a project, let the hot motor cool down before adding more. This eliminates the risk that fuel is accidentally spilled on a hot surface. If this happens, the fuel or fumes could ignite and potentially explode.

14. Should a flammable liquid spill, immediately contact your fire department or local authorities for cleaning instructions and restrict access to the area from children and pets.

Outdoor Activities

15. Gasoline is not a lighter fluid. Never try to start or accelerate a bonfire, barbeque or grill with gasoline.

16. Never allow children near fuel containers or running equipment.

17. Don't guess. Check which fuel type is recommended for your outdoor lawn and sports equipment. Follow all manufacturer safety recommendations.

18. Never use gasoline as a cleaning agent, or to wash hands.

19. Choose the right container. While a Scepter SmartControl container works for family chores, easy to transport Scepter Marine Containers and 14-gallon wheeled Duramax containers are designed for boating needs.

20. To help get you ready for fuel-related tasks, review safety videos online by visiting Scepter.com.

Before fueling up, first review how to do so safely and properly.

9 Ways to Become a Weather Expert

Weather impacts a range of decisions we make throughout the day, from what to wear, whether to bring an umbrella, when to head out for a jog, or even if you should evacuate the area in an emergency. Having access to the most accurate weather forecasts, news and information, and being able to make sense of it, is essential. That's why the experts at Accu-

Weather are sharing nine ways to use their newly designed app to enhance your life:

1. Don't get caught in the rain. Going for a jog? Avoid getting caught in the rain by checking AccuWeather MinuteCast, the app's minute-by-minute precipitation forecast in your location for up to the next two hours.

2. Plan ahead. Planning ahead? AccuWeather provides weather forecasts 45 days out, including historic and trend data breakdowns for each day, giving you a holistic view into the future and the peace of mind to plan that camping trip or to set your outdoor wedding date.

3. Know right away. Get informed automatically of what you need to know and when you need to know it with push notifications. Opt in to receive real-time severe weather alerts from the National Weather Service (NWS) and other sources, which can help protect you and your family from weather emergencies. AccuWeather's mobile apps process NWS severe weather alerts faster than any other source, which is critical when lives are on the line and every second counts.

4. Manage allergies. Don't let seasonal allergies ruin your weekend. The app's Allergy Outlook displays daily projections of common allergens in a single, scroll-free list, so you can decide whether to skip that Saturday afternoon picnic in favor of something indoors.

5. Be productive. Outdoors and on the job? Let your crew know if they need to layer up with the help of the exclusive AccuWeather RealFeel. Combining temperature, plus additional factors such as wind speed and humidity, precipitation, cloud cover and sun intensity, this feature provides a proprietary measure of exactly how the air feels outdoors specific to where you're positioned, so you can keep your worksite productive, protected and comfortable.

6. Get historical. A Location Search feature allows you to check historical weather trends and long-term projections in any given destination, so you can start dreaming about your next vacation as soon as you book a ticket. You can even save your 'Favorites' and 'Recent' locations for easy access to weather forecasts at work, home and school, or track the local weather of loved ones.

7. Catch sunrise. Want to catch that beautiful sunrise on the last day of your beach vacation? The app's Today's Details section lets you know exactly when the sun will rise and set each day, as well as how long each day and night will last.

8. Stay safe behind the wheel. Plan in advance to avoid inclement winter driving by using the 5-Day Precipitation Outlook and the 24-Hour Snowfall Forecast located on one map screen. The map includes a range of additional features, including Radar, Satellite and Temperature Contour, so you can understand all conditions at play.

9. Be prepared. If you live in an area regularly impacted by severe weather events, utilize AccuWeather's video content, weather trends articles and tips curated to help you adequately prepare for a variety of catastrophic events.

To download the app or learn more, check the Apple App Store or Google Play Store.

"With accurate information, you can gain the confidence you need to make better informed decisions for your life, business and family's safety," said Kurt Fulepp, AccuWeather global chief product officer, who led development of the app.

Learn the ABCs of Car Care

Back-to-school season is the ideal time to review your ABCs; the ABCs of car care, that is. The Car Care Council recommends that motorists brush up on their auto care knowledge to make sure their vehicle is operating at its most efficient level before the school year commences and the onset of fall and winter weather.

The ABCs of basic car care include:

A - Always follow a vehicle service schedule.

B - Be sure to have your car inspected when you suspect there is a problem.

C - Correct the problem to help avoid the inconvenience and potential safety hazards of breaking down away from home.

"By following these three basic car care tips, motorists can address minor issues before they become more complicated and more expensive repairs," said Nathan Perrine, executive director,

Car Care Council. "The 'Five Point Check-Up' featured in our back-to-school video offers valuable maintenance and safety tips that will help families get their vehicles ready for transportation needs during the school year."

Produced in conjunction with AutoNetTV Media, the Car Care Council's informative video entitled "Back to School Tips" can be viewed at www.youtube.com/watch?v=gaW4Q7yt1QY. Motorists can also visit www.carcare.org to view the popular 80-page Car Care Guide and sign up for the council's free personalized service schedule and email reminder service.

The non-profit Car Care Council is the source of information for the "Be Car Care Aware" consumer education campaign promoting the benefits of regular vehicle care, maintenance and repair to consumers. For the latest car care news, visit the council's online media room at <http://media.carcare.org>. Ladders and Success

I always seem to have a project, or two, or three, going on someplace. Last week I undertook a new task: re-siding my Aunt Di’s garage. I went over Friday to remove all the old siding and loaded it into my dump truck. Saturday, I went to Duluth to pick up new windows and all the materials to complete the project.

Sunday after church, I started loading my tools into the van. I was pulling a trailer to carry my ladders. As I started stacking my ladders on the flat bed, I said, “Man, I sure have a lot of ladders.” While I was tying the ladders down, I wondered if I may have too many ladders?

I need the four-foot ladder for shorter areas, just out of my reach while standing on the ground. Melissa is helping me with the project, so I needed another four-foot ladder for her. The two six-foot ladders are for areas just beyond the reach for the four-footers. The ten-foot step ladder is necessary for reaching higher areas.

There are a lot of places where I need to work, that call for even taller ladders. So, I brought along my twenty-foot, and thirty-two-foot extension ladders. The ladders can’t be leaning on the building because they would be right in front of the place I’m trying to work. The extension ladders always seem to be too close, or too far from the building; plus, I have to have an open span between ladders, since I am working with twelve-foot long sections of siding. For that, I have ladder jacks.

A ladder jack is a triangular piece with two brackets that will latch onto the back side of a ladder’s rungs. By separating the sections of my thirty-two-foot extension, I end up with two sixteen-foot ladders. I lean them against the building, hang the ladder jacks on the back of each and lay a plank across the jacks. Now I have a nice platform with no obstructions between me and the face of building, upon which to work. Of course, to reach even higher areas, I have two, thirty-two-foot extension ladders and a forty-foot as well.

The ladder jack triangles are adjustable, so depending on the angle of the ladder against the building, I can change the triangles to assure a level working surface. That’s important when you’re working in the air. Still, all these angles and numbers can make your head swim.

I thought back to my days at Ottumwa High School. I sat in geometry class, gazing out the window at my motorcycle in the parking lot across the street. It was a beautiful, sunny, spring day. The classroom windows were open and the breeze was blowing in. It felt good. I was thinking of all the things I could be doing outdoors; the places I could ride my bike – if I wasn’t trapped in this senseless math class.

Mr. Patrick called my name, snapping me out of my daydream, to ask me a question. I had no idea what he was talking about because I wasn’t paying attention. Thus, I answered him, “Why do we have to learn this stuff? I’m never going to use this in the real world.”

“When you get to that stage of life, Mr. Palen, you’ll figure out why you need to know this.” He explained, as he kept drawing lines and numbers on the chalkboard. He quickly caught me up to speed, then we worked out the problem together.

In my driveway, I tightened the last ratchet strap across the load. I counted the ladders on the trailer. “Eight ladders, plus one I’m not taking and two that are still in Ottumwa. Do I seriously own eleven ladders? Do I need that many ladders? Does anyone need that many?” I guess I do use them all.

I thought about my ladders and Mr. Patrick’s geometry class and how today, I actually DO use the things he was teaching me. I recited my high school class call: “The ladder of success we’ll climb, we’re the class of seventy-nine.” I started laughing, “I guess I made it.”
