SERVING MARTIN COUNTY PLUS ADJACENT MINNESOTA & IOWA COUNTIES

The Guy From Just Around the Corner

By Al Batt

My neighbor Crandall stops by.

"How are you doing?" I ask.

"Everything is nearly copacetic. I got a fortune cookie the other day that was completely blank. It shook me up, but no one else cared. I could have just as well bitten my tongue while eating lobster. So, I went home, slept for 14 hours and pretended I'd dreamt the whole thing."

Naturally

1. Insects — Female buffalo gnats or turkey gnats — the farther north I go, the more they are called black flies — bite chunks from my skin and fed on the blood. They punch above their weight and cause intense reactions and painful itching. The end of May and early June is prime time for these insects that breed in moving water. I feel privileged to see most things. I'm happy I can see gnats, but I'm never happy to see them.

2. Birds — Birds filled the day with songs until a bass-powered red car drove by and its deafening music drowned out the natural sounds. An indigo bunting sang "Fire; fire; where? where? here; here; see it? see it?" This bird nests in brushy and weedy habitats on the edges of farm fields, woods, roads and railroads. I see nests in raspberry thickets and on corn and ragweed plants.

A red-headed woodpecker visited our feeder. It stores insects, nuts and seeds under bark, in cracks in fenceposts, under shingles, etc. It has many techniques for obtaining food, including catching flying insects and foraging on the ground. It occasionally drills holes in dead trees searching for wood boring larvae, but flying insects are more important in its diet.

I heard the rattle of a belted kingfisher along a dredge ditch. The scientific name for this top-heavy appearing bird is Megascops alcyon. Alcyon is an alternative form of halcyon. In Greek mythology, Halcyone was the daughter of Aeolus, god of the winds. She was changed into a kingfisher by other gods. Each winter, Aeolus calms the winds briefly so Halcyone could incubate her eggs on the beach in peace. The expression "halcyon days," means a time of peace, joy and success.

I listened to a yellow-billed cuckoo's hollow, wooden-sounding croaking call it often gives in response to loud noises. Its tendency to call at the sound of thunder led to its colloquial name, the rain crow. This prodigious eater of caterpillars generally produces a guttural "ka-ka-ka-ka-kow-kow-kowlp-kowlp-kowlp-kowlp" on the hot, muggy days tending to engender thunderstorms.

I saw many young European starlings and Canada goose goslings. Both sexes of starlings incubate the eggs for 12 days with the nestlings fledging in 21 to 23 days. There may be a second brood. Canada geese incubate eggs for 25 — 30 days. The goslings leave the nest quickly. One brood.

3. Mammals — I saw many dead deer on our roads. Many were yearlings pushed away when their mothers were about to drop fawns. I watched a mother groundhog (woodchuck or whistle-pig) in a tree. She was eating mulberry leaves. Groundhogs enjoy those. There were seven kits on the ground feeding on Dutch clovers and dandelions.

Q-and-A

"Why do I see so many dead raccoons on the roads?" The simple answer is because of cars. A raccoon can run 15 mph, giving it little chance in a race with a Lexus. The raccoons are out at night, hunting garbage cans. It's foraging for food that brings about the collisions. During the mating season (late winter and early spring), male raccoons travel long distances and mate with many females. After a 63-day gestation period, the female has her litter of two to six young — most born in May. The cubs (or kits) are weaned at 7-16 weeks of age and become independent when they are 8 to 12 months old.

"Do you ever call birds by their full scientific names?" Only when I'm angry with them.

"Do tanagers eat bees?" Bees and wasps comprise the bulk of a summer tanager's diet. Summer tanagers, a rare summer visitor here, snatch a bee and bludgeon it on a branch. The scarlet tanager is much more common and eats bees and wasps, but isn't as noted for bee consumption as are summer tanagers. They hover in the air and catch bees and wasps, then press the insects into a branch to kill them.

Thanks for stopping by
"When you counsel someone, you should appear to be reminding him of something he had forgotten, not of the light he was unable to see." — Baltasar Gracian

"We have grown dull toward this world in which we live; we have forgotten that it is not normal or scientific in any sense of the word. It is fantastic. It is fairy tale through and through. Really now. Elephants? Caterpillars? Snow? At what point did you lose your wonder at it all?" — John Eldredge

UHD adds Tim Soelter to Orthopedic Team

United Hospital District (UHD) of Blue Earth announces the expansion of their Orthopedics department with the arrival of new provider Tim Soelter, a Certified Physician Assistant in Orthopedics. Tim will see patients in UHD's Blue Earth and Fairmont Clinics.

A longtime resident of Fairmont and familiar face to many, Soelter has nearly 20 years' experience treating sports injuries plus the whole musculoskeletal system, including back, neck, knees, hips and shoulders. He is also an avid Fairmont Area Jr./Sr. High School sports fan and has served as a sports trainer at the school for many years.

"We are very excited to have Tim Soelter join UHD as part of our outstanding orthopedic team," said UHD CEO Rick Ash. "Tim has a strong commitment to serving our communities and brings with him a wealth of experience. Having Tim join UHD strengthens our efforts to provide quality healthcare as close to home as possible."

Mr. Soelter joins Chad Helmstetter as the second certified physician assistant to see patients and assist UHD's orthopedic surgeons Dr. Steven Curtis and Dr. Scott Stevens. The busy orthopedic team routinely performs joint replacements for hips, shoulders and knees and treats activity-related injuries. UHD specializes in minimally invasive procedures with small incisions, which decrease post-surgical cal pain, minimize the risk of infection and frequently allow patients to go home the same day.

Excited about his new role at UHD, Tim said, "One of the big things that drew me to practice orthopedics in a small town is the ability to make connections within the community and outside the work environment. I really like to help out people I know, and I enjoy when they're comfortable approaching me wherever they see me."

Home buyers frequently asked questions

Guest Columnist

Gillian Tunnell, Realtor Century 21 Northland Realty

What's the first step in buying a home?

The process begins with a visit to your lender to get pre-approved for a mortgage loan. The lender will request you to bring in two years tax returns, pay slips, and other financial information. When all your pertinent information has been gathered, your loan package goes to a mortgage underwriter. Here it will be determined whether you are a good risk for the lender if offered a loan.

What sort of credit score do I need?

Lenders most often require a score of 620+, though some programs allow 580. Other factors are also a vital part of the financial picture, such as your history of loans and timely repayments, bankruptcies, your payments on any present mortgage, credit available vs credit used, percentage of outstanding debt vs income, and other financial transactions.

If approved you will be issued a letter stating how much mortgage loan you would qualify for, and this information helps both you and your realtor to focus on homes in your price range. In addition, the letter shows your realtor and the seller of the home you are purchasing, that you are serious about buying. In a multi-offer situation, this gives you an added advantage!

How much down payment will I need?

Gone are the days when 20% was the norm! There are loans now that require little or no down payment. For example, FHA loans require only 3.5%, including First Time Home Owner loans.

Veterans Administration and Rural Housing loans (USDA) generally require no down payment at all, though there may be a 1% funding fee, which could be added to the loan.

What is earnest money?

Earnest money is just what it says - it is proffered with the purchase agreement and accompanying documents, to show the seller that you are in earnest about buying the home! If your offer is accepted, the money is deposited in the listing broker's trust account (which is closely monitored by the Chamber of Commerce). The money will become part of the closing transaction, going towards the down payment and closing costs. If the deal does not go through for no fault of the buyer, the earnest money will be returned.

How much earnest money should I offer?

Generally, 1%-2% of the purchase price is desirable, depending on the situation with the property in question. For example, when there are multiple offers, a larger earnest money might help towards your offer being accepted. In a buyer's market, less would probably be acceptable.

How long does it take to get an answer from the seller?

There is no set time unless specifically added to the Purchase Agreement. However, there is a clause in the P.A. stating that time is of the essence in real estate transactions.

If you have other questions, do not hesitate to ask your realtor - we are here to help you navigate successfully through the home buying/selling process.

Ask the Fairmont City Administrator

Guest Columnist

Mike Humpal, City of Fairmont Administrator

Why doesn't the City of Fairmont have a law or ordinance requiring dog owners to pick up after their dog and are dogs required to be on a leash?

Yes, Fairmont does have a City Code (Ordinance) that regulates animals and specifically picking up after your dog and maintaining physical control of your dog.

All City Ordinances pertaining to animals can be found in City Code, Chapter 4, Section 4-1 through 4-30.

Section 4-25(b) It is unlawful for any owner or other person in charge of a dog or cat, to be in a park, upon other public property or private property not owned by said person, and to allow the dog or cat to defecate and then to fail to clean up the defecation immediately.

4-21 prohibits dogs from running at large. It is unlawful for any person who is the owner, or other person in possession or control, of a dog or cat, to permit such dog or cat to run at large. A dog or cat is deemed to NOT be running at large if it is on a leash and under the direct control of an accompanying person. An E Collar is not under direct control.

Energy efficiency incentives available from Truman Public Utilities

Electric customers of Truman Public Utilities can receive rebates for making certain energy efficiency improvements to their homes or businesses.

Rebates are provided in collaboration with Truman Public Utilities' wholesale power supplier, Heartland Consumers Power District, as part of their energy efficiency program, Power Forward.

Residential customers may receive rebates for upgrading lighting to more efficient LEDs, purchasing an electric water heater with a lifetime warranty or purchasing an Energy Star qualified air source heat pump, central air conditioner or geothermal heat pump.

"Energy efficient products typically have a slightly higher upfront cost, but the savings achieved over the lifetime of the product should make up for that extra investment," said Heartland Chief Communications Officer Ann Hyland. "The incentives are designed to help bridge the gap, making the efficient models more affordable, helping customers achieve long-term energy savings."

Lighting rebates range from $3 to $5 depending on the type of bulb or fixture. Eligible water heaters 50 gallons in size to 79 gallons may receive a $200 rebate. Water heaters 80 gallons or larger may be eligible for a $400 rebate. Qualifying air source heat pumps and central air conditioners receive a $200 rebate and geothermal heat pumps receive a $600 rebate.

Commercial and industrial customers can apply for rebates for replacing existing light fixtures with more efficient LEDs. A variety of rebate amounts are available depending on the type of lighting being replaced and type and wattage of LEDs being installed.

Refrigeration and freezer upgrades as well as heating and cooling system upgrades may also qualify for rebates for commercial and industrial customers under the Power Forward program.

Rebate applications as well as details of specific upgrades eligible for incentives can be obtained by contacting the Truman Public Utilities Office or online at www.hcpd.com/energy-efficiency. Rebates are available on a first-come, first-served basis as funding is limited.

What's Cooking

with Kathy Lloyd

A Favorite!

One of my favorite things is homemade bread, slathered with butter and topped with a slice of cheese. Butter just soaks in the home made bread, which is why I dare not make it too often. My son Jason recently sent me his recipe for bread he says is his go to recipe to make, its fairly fast to put together and there is no kneading. I don't have the stamina to do that for very long. I loved this bread, I would call it rustic. The texture is a little coarser than some bread (the better for butter to soak into it!).

Everyday Bread:
2 pkg. quick acting yeast
3 1/2 cups hot water
1/3 cup honey
4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
5 1/2 cups all purpose flour
1/3 cup flax meal
1/3 cup sunflower seeds

Butter the inside of two 9x5 in. loaf pans and a large enough piece of waxed paper to cover both of them. In a large bowl, mix the yeast with the water, let set until bubbly. Add honey, salt and then flours and seeds. Mix well. Scrape the dough into pans and cover with buttered waxed paper. Let rise for about an hour or until doubles in size. Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Bake loaves for 30 minutes. Remove bread from pans and return to oven for an additional 15 minutes. Bread is done when it is richly brown and sounds hollow when tapped.

Have a great week!

On behalf of the Martin County Historical Society Board of Directors, I would like to acknowledge and thank the Martin County Youth Foundation for their grant of $500.00 to our organization.

This grant will enable us to continue our school visitation program at the Pioneer Museum and the Walking Tour conducted at Heritage Acres. As a result of these activities, students are provided the opportunity to actively learn and experience the rich and colorful history of Martin County.

The Nicholas Theater in Fairmont had been sold to State Theatre Co. of Brookings, South Dakota, according to an announcement by Kenneth Evans who had been local manager since 1962. The Nicholas, renamed from the Haynic in 1927 by the late W.L. Nicholas and his son Herbert, operated for many years as the luxury house of the city. It was the theatre of many road shows and vaudeville productions before becoming a filmhouse exclusively.

Jeff's Jottings

Karis and I had our nephew Chase stay with us at the farm this weekend. Usually when he is out there, he spends most of his time driving some of my tractors and spending time outdoors with us. This past weekend though we put him to work. It was the Sherburn Holiday Festival and since I am a member of the Sherburn Lions, I was scheduled to work some of the booths at the festival, so I enlisted Chase's help. He did a great job of helping out while we were in the food stand, taking orders, handing out beverages and running for things I needed to help cook the food. Chase got a chance to see how the Lions members worked to ensure the festival was a success. I think one of the most overlooked parts of each community is the organizations that help out in many ways, whether it be running festivals, organizing and conducting fundraisers or benefits, donating money for various community and school projects and also just providing an environment for men and women to do something for their community with an organization that is made up of other community members. The next time you are asked to join one of these organizations, please consider it and hopefully accept the invite. I'm sure glad I did!

"What is it?" solved

Our "What is it?" item from last week turned out to be easier to answer than I thought it would be. Virgil Kopeschka contacted me already Wednesday afternoon and answered it correctly. The item is a roller chain breaker, to take apart and reassemble the connectors on a roller chain, like a bicycle chain. I had over a half dozen people contact me with the same answer and some even said they had one and still use it.

So that answers last week's "What is it?" question. This week we have an item that was brought in to me by Laurence Ternes of Ledyard, Iowa. He brought this item in with a number of other items that have been or will be used in my column. The overall length is about 12 inches. The item is made of steel with a wooden handle. As you can see by the photo, one side of the metal end has a notched "v" while the backside is flat. I blurred out the information that was on the white sticker, since it has the answer on it. Now many of you may answer like I first did when Lawrence showed it to me, but no, it is not a hoof scraper for a horse, nor is it a wood chisel. It is something completely different. So do you think you know what it is? Call me at 507-238-9456 or drop me an email: jeff@fairmontphotopress.com - or you can stop in to the Photo Press with your guess. If you have an item you think would be a good one for this column, bring it in and we will take photos and get information on the item, or you can take your own pictures and send them to me at my email address above.

"Dennis"

Granted, doing business online is convenient but I like old fashioned service; I prefer to deal with people one-on-one, in-person when possible. It's just more fun that way. For example, when I have an insurance premium due, instead of mailing the payment I'd rather take a check to the agent's office working with their staff directly. One such company is in a town in which I no longer live - so each month I call the agency's office to make my payment over the phone. I always work with the same person.

The other day I called their office asking to speak to Denise. Whoever answers the phone will always inquire, "May I ask who's calling please?" When Denise came to the phone, she already knew who was on the other end of the line. I was laughing with mischievous thoughts running through my head.

"Oh my gosh. What did you do?" She asked with concern, knowing my love of pranks.

Proclaiming my innocence, "I didn't do anything...this time..." I said, "But whoever answers the phone always inquires, 'May I ask who's calling?'" Well next time I'm going to smugly answer, 'I'd rather not say.'"

Denise chuckled nervously. With skepticism she asked, "Why would you do that?"

"I'm going to tell them, 'I'd rather not say because I don't want to compromise her true identity - you know, the sanctity of the witness protection program must be respected.'" Denise and I shared a good laugh about that. "Then I'm going to tell them, 'I've probably already said too much, but I will tell you this, she is an undercover spy and Denise isn't her real name - it's Dennis... ..and she's a guy!'" We were both rolling with laughter.

I could feel Denise blushing over the absurdity of it all. As she exclaimed, "Oh my Lord," I wondered what her co-workers must think when she's in her office, on the phone, cracking up laughing - surely, she can't really be working! Trying to contain her laughter, Denise attempted to get us back on track. Focusing on the actual purpose of this call, she asked, "Did you want to give me your account number to make a payment?"

Denise has provided me top notch service for many, many years. She's a big part of the reason I continue to do business with their company, even though I have since moved. Besides, I can't imagine having this kind of fun buying insurance from a green lizard online.

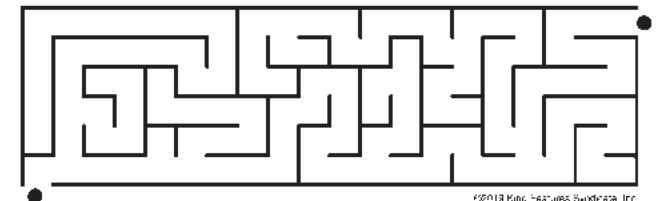

I love working with real people.

Interacting with our listeners and advertisers was always one of my favorite parts of being in the radio broadcasting business. I liked visiting with clients, taking them little gifts like coffee mugs, T-shirts, caps, note pads, calendars and other such promotional items bearing the station call letters. I wanted to take them something different - something unique that no other radio station would take them, but I didn't know what...

...my jaw dropped...I couldn't believe what I was seeing...my dog pee'd...

OBITUARY notices

Keith A. Ebert, 63

Funeral service for Keith Arlen Ebert, 63, of Fairmont, was held Monday, June 17th at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Fairmont. Inurnment will be held at a later date at St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery in Truman. Keith passed away peacefully at his home on Tuesday morning, June 11th, 2019. Zaharia Family Funeral was entrusted with the arrangements.

Keith Arlen Ebert was born March 2nd, 1956, in Fairmont, to R. Arlen and Doreen (Geistfeld) Ebert. He grew up in Truman, attending St. Paul Lutheran elementary school and going on to Truman Public school, graduating in the Class of 1974. He went on to college at the U of M, St. Paul, but decided he didn't want to be just a number, so transferred to U of M, Waseca. He earned no specific degree except the ability to thrive in whatever life had to offer.

He met Julie Linser in Alexandria, MN. They soon married in Morris, MN September 21st, 1980 and moved to Fairmont in February of 1981. They were blessed with four wonderful children. Over the years, Keith had several jobs, working for Snap On Tools, Armour frozen foods, Minnesota Motor Bus, Salstrom's Mobil gas station, Sunday Tribune substitute delivery driver, Jim Hill-Ag Industrial and most recently, Olson Rentals as the power washer sales & service tech. He enjoyed every one of these positions. He was a wealth of knowledge and made it his "mission" to share it in order to get the job done and teach those around him.

One of the ways he satisfied his need to be outdoors was through the Boy Scouts as a committee member, accomplishing many projects at Cedar Point Boy Scout Camp and Camp Cuyuna over the years. His most passionate pastime was with guns and gun safety. All his children knew the safe way to handle a gun, as well as those he taught as an official instructor. Hunting "up North" for deer, grouse, and ducks happened every year without fail. Bucket list hunting trips included bear, moose and elk, thanks to his dear friend and his cousin.

Keith is survived by his wife of 38 years, Julie; devoted children, Melissa (Mark) Keefer of Shakopee, MN, DeAnn (Ben) Loll of Campbell, MN, Renae (Matthew) Rimmer of Beaufort, NC and Michael (Heather) Ebert of Fort Leonard Wood, MO; beloved grandchildren, Zoey Guzman, Jonah, Oliver, Clara and Isaiah Loll, Olivia and Colin Keefer and Leopold Ebert; his loving mother, Doreen Ebert of Fairmont; older brother Kirk Ebert of Bryan, OH; younger sister Kimberly (Denny) Gleason of Buffalo, MN; parents-in-law Donald and Carol Linser; brothers and sisters-in-law Jon (Susan) Linser and Jay Linser; aunts and uncles, Jan Warrington and Judi (Richard) Bergen; cousins, nieces and nephews. He will also be missed by many wonderful friends and "honorary kids".

Keith is happily living his passion for hunting and fishing in heaven reunited with his father, R. Arlen Ebert; aunt and uncle LouAnn and Robert Kilpatrick; paternal grandparents Reuel and Clara Ebert and maternal grandparents Ed and Marian Geistfeld, and uncle Ed Warrington.

In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to "Friends of Cedar Point" (Boy Scout group); Immanuel Lutheran church roof fund; or the Fairmont Trap Club or Truman Gun Club.

The rose plant itself is said to be around 35 million years old; it has a very long history as a symbol for love and beauty and for politics and war. Cultivation of roses began some 5,000 years ago, probably in China. During the Roman period, they were used as confetti at celebrations, for medicinal purposes, and as a source of perfume. Roman nobility established large public rose gardens in their cities.

A busy day for Pheasants Forever

by: Bryan Gregor, Martin County Pheasants Forever

Saturday, June 8th, was a full day for volunteers of the Martin County Chapter of Pheasants Forever. The day started out with committee members meeting at the Fairmont Trap Club to set up for our 4th annual Youth Trap Shoot. While there were less than 20 youth participating, those there had a great time. All in attendance were treated to two 25 clay rounds, free shells, a meal, and a year's membership in Pheasants Forever at no charge. Good luck to those high school shooters participating in state competition this week.

Later in the day was the Interlaken Heritage Day Parade. Members made good use of our "No Child Left Indoors" trailer by passing out candy, frisbees, and flyers to save the date for our 2nd Annual Youth Conservation Day to be held August 24th at the Martin County Fairgrounds. It was hot and tiresome, but well worth the effort to see the smiles from the kids and families along the route. Many of our die-hard members persevered to move on to yet another event for the day. The Danny Williams Memorial Race was also held Saturday night at the Fairmont Raceway. Danny was not only a race fan, but also an avid outdoorsman. Their committee asked Martin County Pheasants Forever to assist them in giving away 11 youth shotguns that evening. Along with financial support, our group registered 174 youth for the giveaway that evening with 11 eventual winners. It was a night that would have made Danny proud.

Martin County Pheasants Forever is also proud to be an active part of our community and county. We appreciate the opportunity to support and work with a variety of groups in our mission to introduce youth to the outdoors and improve habitat and conservation in Martin County.

Daughter of former resident competes for Miss Kansas Outstanding Teen 2019

Becca Rock, Miss Air Capital's Outstanding Teen 2019, competed at Miss Kansas Outstanding Teen in Pratt, Kansas on June 8th. Becca is the 15-year-old daughter of Anita Wendt, a 1990 Fairmont Area High School graduate. Becca's grandparents are Elmer B. and Lois Wendt of Fairmont.

Anita has two daughters, Mia and Rebecca (Becca) Rock. Both are active in their local 4-H program, just as Anita and her brother, Robb, were active in the Go-Getters 4-H Club in Martin County when they were growing up.

Becca's passion in 4-H is shooting sports and public speaking. Becca started to shoot competitively in air rifle and air pistol nearly as soon as she started 4-H. She credits her grandpa for getting her started target shooting. Most two female shooters. Becca is a highly gifted student. She meets with her gifted coordinator twice a week during the school year. In 7th grade, Becca was selected by Duke University Talent Identification Program (Duke TIP) to take her ACT. After a very successful ACT, Becca was invited to participate in Duke's programs for highly gifted students as well as accepted to the College of Gifted Studies at Fort Hays State University where she started college when she was in 8th grade concurrent with her regular school studies.

This is Becca's third year competing with the Miss America Organization Outstanding Teen division. Becca's platform is "To Make the Best Better"; Positive Youth Development Though 4-H. What better than to select a platform she is so passionate about. In Kansas, sometimes 4-H can be only associated with rural life so Becca has made an effort to really drive home the life skills aspects of 4-H. Over the past year as a local titleholder with the Miss Wichita Organization, Becca has taken her 4-H platform across Kansas from rural Grant County where she lives, to urban Liberal in Seward County, and to metropolitan Wichita in Sedgwick County. Becca's hard work really recently, Becca's love for shooting has taken her to the Ulysses High School Trap Shooting Team where she is only one of paid off at Miss Kansas Outstanding Teen when she was named as a Finalist for the prestigious Teens in Action Scholarship Award for her community service work and later that week named the Teens in Action Award recipient.

For the Talent Portion of Miss Kansas Outstanding Teen, Becca decided to perform ballet en pointe. Becca has been dancing since she was four years old and has been studying ballet en pointe for the last two years.

Becca will be starting her sophomore year at Ulysses High School this fall. Becca enjoys ballet, theatre, choir, playing the violin, and of course shooting sports. Her career goals include a degree in business and possibly law school. In the future, Becca would like to work with not-for-profits and continue her volunteer work with youth. Just as the 4-H motto states she wants "To Make the Best Better".

Fairmont Covenant celebrates 40 years

Fairmont Evangelical Covenant Church (FECC) in Fairmont is celebrating its fortieth anniversary in 2019 and is inviting the community to join them.

“I remember the thrill of joining with others that first Easter Sunday as we had a sense that God had led us to that moment,” wrote Dennis and Jeannine Sternke in 1994 about the church’s beginnings. “The church grew out of a caring, sharing group that met to pray for one another’s needs, expecting God to answer in supernatural and compassionate ways.”

Now, as the church celebrates 40 years of ministry, some things have changed—such as building a physical church, an expansion of the building, and the paying off of the $1 million mortgage—and some things have stayed the same such as the reliance on God and the importance of prayer and caring for one another.

“FECC has its foundation in the Bible and strives to live according to those teachings in all that it does,” said Cathy Meyer, one of the church members helping plan the celebration for the occasion. She initially began attending FECC because “my husband and I wanted a church that preached the Bible as the Word of God, where the gifts of the Spirit were taught, where we could grow deeper in our faith, and raise our children to know Jesus and the calling that He has on our lives.”

Church members initially met in a classroom at Central School, then later to a makeshift church on Lake Avenue, to finally the building it now fills at 901 Woodland Avenue in Fairmont across from Lakeview Methodist Health Care Center.

The anniversary get together will be held Sunday, June 30th beginning at 9:30 a.m. with worship at the church and then a lunch at 11:30 a.m. with a sharing time. Family friendly activities will be offered including games and an inflatable “bouncy” house.

Community Options & Resources Connections

Community Options & Resources (COR) is a private, non-profit organization which provides residential and in-home support services to persons with disabilities in Martin, Jackson and Watonwan Counties.

The COR mission is to provide a service promoting the ability of each individual to lead a productive and enjoyable life in all environments with the support of professionally skilled staff.

"When I started working at COR, it was my first time working in the healthcare field. Working with Brenda has been one of the most memorable experiences of my life. From the moment I started working with Brenda, we had an instant bond. Spending time with her has taught me a lot about looking at life with a different perspective.

In the two years I have worked with Brenda, she has accomplished so much. She has learned to high five; she can make a choice from five different items, and she is very involved with more activities. Brenda and I use hand-over-hand when we do crafts or color. Brenda loves when I read her short stories. Brenda also loves Christmas music no matter what time of year it is.

Brenda has the biggest, brightest smile, and it lights up my day when I see her. Brenda enjoys going for short walks and loves sitting outside when it is nice."

Since 1975, COR's values have been the people we support, our staff, our homes, networking, and the future. If interested in joining the COR team as an employee or a volunteer, please visit www.cormn.com or call (507) 764-4612, ext 5.

The Virginia and Martin Krause Scholarship Fund awarded $10,000 to students attending Martin Luther High School for the 2019-2020 school year. Winners are selected by an advisory committee based on criteria apart from their GPA. "We were proud that this school is still here after 34+ years--and want it to be here for decades to come," says Martin Krause. He also expressed the desire for more people to follow his example. "Virginia and I hope others will consider a charitable contribution to Martin Luther through scholarships. it's a wonderful legacy to leave for our next generation. Our goal was for this scholarship fund to last into perpetuity and anyone who would like to join us is welcome." This scholarship is given out annually. (Submitted photo)

A cartoon by Peter Dinklage. On a stage with a green curtain, a woman with dark hair and glasses stands at a wooden podium labeled "FIRST LADY". She is speaking into a microphone. A speech bubble from her says: "NOW PLEASE JOIN ME IN WELCOMING OUR KEYNOTE SPEAKER FOR THE EVENING. MAY I PRESENT DR. LANCE BOYLE...". To her right, a man in a grey suit and glasses walks across the stage, holding a white folder. Above them is a green banner that reads "2019 DERMATOLOGISTS CONVENTION". The audience, seen from behind, is clapping. The cartoon is signed "P. DINKLAGE" in the bottom right corner.
