She looks so sweet upon the seat of a bicycle built for two

By Tish family members

One thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine miles on a tandem bicycle brought Tracy Tish and his wife, Tammy home to the city limits of Welcome, Minnesota recently.

Riding from the Pacific salt water of Anacortes, Washington, they stopped in Welcome to take a short break to visit family.

This three-month journey has been on their bucket list. Now in their early 50's, they had a perfect opportunity to put life on hold and hit the road. Arriving in Welcome on August 22nd, they have achieved 2/3 of the miles of their trip. There are approximately 1,300 miles to go.

The 71 mile ride, from Adrian, Minnesota to Welcome, was one of their longest days. But, with the wind behind them, and a cooler temperature, they made it without difficulty.

Tracy said the trip has been great fun and they have met so many interesting people. The hardest part of the trip was early on, as they took on the Cascade Mountains in the state of Washington. After the mountainous western states, the plains of SD and rural areas of the Midwest have been much easier.

The pair will be on the road again to complete their cross-country bike trek to finish their adventure in the salt water of the Potomac River in Washington DC.

Adult Bible Study at St. John Vianney Church

Scripture and the Tradition of the Catholic Church provide an abundance of wisdom, though it can often be challenging to apply it to our lives.

St. John Vianney Church in Fairmont will conduct an adult bible study beginning at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, September 19th and meeting for eight weeks.

In this study, Jeff Cavins and Thomas Smith examine biblical wisdom as it relates to daily life. Drawing on the wisdom literature of the Bible—Proverbs, Wisdom, Sirach, and Ecclesiastes—Wisdom will teach you how to actively seek out sound guidance and increase your sense of peace in navigating life. In everything from friendships to finances, from making decisions to attaining peace of mind, Scripture offers a vision for happiness and well-being.

Free baseline impact testing offered for area athletes through CFSC

Center for Specialty Care in Fairmont, Blue Earth, and St James has announced that it will be offering FREE Baseline Impact Concussion Screening for all area student-athletes.

For the past 28 years, Center for Specialty Care has been providing orthopedic and sports coverage for southern Minnesota and northern Iowa, currently providing athletic trainer coverage at local sporting events throughout the area.

As concussion awareness continues to increase, Center for Specialty Care is taking the charge to ensure the safety of all of our area student-athletes. This is an issue that Center for Specialty Care has always taken very seriously, and one of the most crucial components to properly assessing, diagnosing, and treating a concussion is for all athletes to have a baseline screening performed prior to the beginning of activities that could potentially involve an impact to the head. The earlier these screenings are performed the better. In order to encourage the participation of any student-athlete who hasn't already gotten this screening done, Center for Specialty is offering this baseline screening for FREE.

This screening can be scheduled by simply contacting the Center for Specialty Care at 507-238-4949. For orthopedic urgent care needs, the Center for Specialty Care orthopedic urgent care hotline is 507-779-9634.

My Doctor is a CFMP....
Wait, What?

Guest Columnist

Dr. Scott Burtis, M.S., D.C., Burtis Chiropractic Center

Those of you who know me or follow my articles know that I never stop learning. Along with my Doctorate in Chiropractic which I attained over 30 years ago, I earned my Master's Degree in Clinical Nutrition in 2013. Even with that I had an intense desire to continue learning and to broaden my base of knowledge and understanding in human health – so I chose to obtain my C.F.M.P. Most people have never heard of this so I am taking this month's column to explain what that is, and how it can help you.

C.F.M.P. stands for "Certified Functional Medicine Practitioner". Your first question may be what "Functional Medicine" is. As Dr. Mark Hyman, physician and New York Times best-selling author, explained it – it is the opposite of dysfunction! More precisely, it looks at the body's systems as a whole to determine the best way to restore health and vitality, rather than just treating symptoms. I will give you a couple of examples.

Let's talk blood pressure. If you have high blood pressure, typically you will be prescribed a drug to lower the blood pressure. There are a number of them out there – beta blockers, ACE inhibitors, diuretics, Calcium channel blockers. Each one utilizes some part of the blood pressure pathway to lower blood pressure. Each one has side effects – some of them serious – but most of them will indeed lower your blood pressure. Which means you're then healthy, right?

(Here's where you're supposed to say, "Wrong, Dr. Burtis!")

A functional medicine practitioner would start by asking, "Why is your blood pressure high?" There must be a reason for it, right? Old age? No, lots of old folks have normal blood pressure. Weight? Well, yes, overweight people tend to have higher blood pressure, but then the weight is just another symptom of an underlying problem. So now you have two symptoms and still no cause. Is it a lack of blood pressure drugs in your system? Some people seem to think so. It's more than likely a lack of exercise and a not-so-good diet. Remember the pill commercials where they say "When diet and exercise fail to lower your blood pressure, try XYZ drug"? Exercise and diet rarely fail you, and even then there are natural alternatives that work typically just as well and without the side effects. One research publication out of Chicago showed that upper cervical chiropractic adjustments can often restore normal blood pressure.

There are a number of reasons your blood pressure can be high. Adrenal dysfunction, kidneys, liver, toxins, hormonal imbalance, etc. Blood pressure is one of the ways your body says "Help! We are having problems with your lifestyle. Change SOMETHING!!". Giving your body a drug is like telling your child to sit down and be quiet when they really need your help.

Another good example is thyroid problems. Most traditional practitioners don't even run the complete panel of tests to show what is wrong! Then, rather than finding the source of your thyroid problem, they just give you a synthetic thyroid medication that may or may not help. (Your numbers may get better but you still feel tired and wore out.) What can cause hypothyroidism? Excess cortisol can block the conversion of T4 to T3. An autoimmune disease can affect thyroid function as well. Low iodine, selenium, tyrosine, or glutathione can result in low thyroid function. If you answer the symptom with a drug, you will never find the source of the problem – and with that drug, you now you have side effects to deal with as well.

Finally, here is a real-life example for you. I have had the pleasure of working with a young man with O.C.D., obsessive compulsive disorder. Three years of medical treatment had resulted in him gaining 30 pounds, being more depressed, and no better. By assessing his history, his condition, and his lifestyle, we were able to advise him on lifestyle changes and proper supplementation to address the cause of his O.C.D. and not just the symptoms. He is now 90% better, off the couch, and looking forward to working again. We were able to identify both a neurotransmitter deficiency and a mineral imbalance that were blocking the ability of a part of his brain called the caudate nucleus to do its job. Once that imbalance was addressed, he began to return to his old self. I guarantee you his problem was not an antidepressant deficiency.

That is what functional medicine does. A Certified Functional Medicine Practitioner looks in depth, way beyond the symptoms, to find the real cause. If you want more from your health care, look for someone who is actually certified in this science, not just someone who advertises that they do nutritional counseling. Look for someone who has actually been practicing it – which means saying no to Dr. Google. There are only two practitioners with this certification in southern Minnesota, and Fairmont has one of them – right here at Burtis Chiropractic Center. Your answer is out there; you just need the right guide. Your future healthier, more functional self is waiting for you!

Walking around Lake Sisseton
isn't for sissies

By Al Batt

I could see it in my wife's eyes. My fragility frightened her. The illness and its treatments had taken a toll. I'd had surgeries and hospital stays. I'd lost 75 pounds so quickly that my shadow would be 3.63 miles. My couldn't keep up. It lost only 25 pounds. I love to walk, and I hoped no one from but 50 steps was my limit. my insurance company Dizziness, balance issues would be watching. I'd and exhaustion kept me planned to walk it nonstop, from taking another step. but that didn't happen. I used a walking stick to take advantage of places shuffle to one venue where provided for sitting, from I'd be speaking, but needed which I listened. to rest. I sat on a gigantic I listened because of the rear bumper of a parked legend of the Singing Oak, pickup. I worried the truck's an ancient tree that stood in alarm would sound. I gave what is now Sylvania Park. my talk while sitting on the edge of a stage as if it were another bumper.

Not long after that low point, I pushed the number of steps I could take without rest to 51. Buoyed by that momentous achievement, I decided to take a challenging walk. I didn't need to build a barn. I just needed to walk. Neither loving wife nor friends could change my mind. I can be stubborn.

Thanks to the Pioneer Museum, Major Arthur M. Nelson and an 1895 edition of the Martin County Sentinel, I'd read about a Sioux singer whose songs ridiculed war and irritated tribal leaders, but made him popular with the people. The legend tells of Sisseton warriors capturing a white child. The singer befriended the child. An epidemic, likely smallpox, hit the tribe. A council of wisemen decided the Great Spirit was displeased by the presence of the white child. They decreed the child be put to death. The singer pleaded fervently on the child's behalf. The tribal leaders sentenced him to die with the youngster. The two were burned together at the oak tree. The singer died heroically, singing that the Great Spirit found war hateful. His tragic end and his dying words influenced the people. The Sentinel article read, "And it is a matter of history that at the time of the Great Sioux uprising in '62 the Sissetons under their aged chief, Standing Buffalo, were the only ones that remained passive and did not make war on the whites."

The victims' remains were buried near the water. The Sioux believed the voice of the singer and the cries of the child could be heard there. White trappers and hunters claimed to have heard a voice of a man singing and a child sobbing. Signage in Sylvania Park quotes Nelson on his visit to the site: "I am free to admit that a feeling of indescribable dread, if not fear, crept over me when there came in my ears much more distinctly than ever before a man wildly singing, mingled with the agonizing cries of a child." The tree was destroyed years later by a fire. Nelson said evidence indicated a lightning strike, but perhaps its heart had smoldered since the cremation of the singer.

This all seems to have little connection to my walk, but I found strength in the story. The singer's bravery made my steps simple and easy compared to what he'd suffered. Welcomed inspiration comes in many forms. I completed my walk. It was the tentpole to my recovery. The trail wanted it to be a best two out of three, but I refused.

On my walk, I'd happened upon a midden and its owner scolded me severely. Red squirrels stash food (cones, nuts, fruit and debris) in caches called middens. The piles could be in hollow trees or stumps, underground dens, beneath logs or at the base of trees. That squirrel saved food as I save moments in my midden of memories.

I'd walked to the end of the trail. I needed to do that. An ending can mark a beginning.

And each day gets a little better.

New Great-Granddaughter!

We have a new Great Granddaughter, born August 28th, Nora Grace Phillis weighed 5 # 10 oz. Our Lydia is now a big sister! I'm so anxious to get my hands on her. I love the smell of new babies.

Time for another salad recipe. This salad was served at the graduation celebration we went to earlier for our Grand nephew Tristan Rabbe. I have made a salad very similar to this one but I like this recipe better.

Shot Gun Salad

16 oz. bag of shredded cabbage
2 pkg. chicken flavored Raman noodles
3 green onions, sliced
1 cup chow mien noodles
1 cup honey roasted peanuts

Dressing:

1/2 cup canola oil
3-4 Tablespoons wine vinegar
1 Tablespoon sugar
2 seasoning packets from the Raman noodles

Whisk together the dressing ingredients. Break up Raman noodles and mix with the cabbage and green onions. Add chow mien noodles, peanuts and dressing just before serving.

Enjoy the cooler weather and have a great week!

"Lemonade 50 cents"

Driving down West Howard Street on a sunny Saturday afternoon, I noticed two young ladies, actually little girls, sitting behind a table on the corner. They hollered and waved vigorously at me as I went by. I gave them a return toot of the horn. A lemonade stand. How cute! I dug into my pocket to find the smallest bill I had on me was a twenty.

The site took me back a bunch of years to Madison, Wisconsin. Along with my siblings, we would set up Kool-Aid stands. As enterprising youth, we hoped to make a few dollars. "Who knows?" I thought back then, "If this works well, I could make a living at this. The problem was that we lived on the dead-end block of our road. There wasn't enough traffic going by our house, and honestly, we drank all the product ourselves.

I had an idea. We should move our stand one block to the west onto Buckeye Road. It was a busy street with a lot of traffic. That we did and we made pretty good money at ten cents per glass.

There were some logistical problems; whenever our pitcher ran dry, we had to send someone a block away to replenish our stock. We lost business when people would stop to buy a glass of Kool-Aid and we didn't have the merchandise on hand to serve them. Although we assured them it would only be a couple minutes until more Kool-Aid arrived, they were not willing to wait.

"You have to run faster." We would tell the one going for a fresh pitcher. Running with a full pitcher caused spillage and made for some very sticky staff. We learned to use two pitchers, which solved the problem, but there were other issues.

Disputes arose over whose turn it was to run back to the house for more Kool-Aid, which led to the question, who is the boss? There were heated conversations as to whom should work which position and who would handle the money. I personally enjoyed the marketing end of the business - that is, hollering and waving vigorously to draw the attention of drivers going by.

The troubles within our business were becoming increasingly more difficult to overcome. When Mom's sugar canister was empty, we tried making a pitcher of fruit flavored Kool-Aid without sugar. That didn't go over well and the customers complained - some even asked for their dime back. Poor product quality and turmoil amongst the staff led to our company shutting down.

Despite the few issues, we had fun. At the end of the day we were hot and sticky. We did well, but when we divided our receipts among the partners, we ended up with only around a buck each. I decided there had to be an easier way for a seven year old kid to make a living. That's when I discovered Grit Magazine - media! That's where the real money was...but that's a different story.

I pulled the twenty dollar bill from my pocket...

Have You Planned for Long-term Care?

If you are fortunate, you will retain your physical and mental capacities throughout your life and can always live independently. But there are no guarantees for any of us.

If you ever require some form of long-term care, will you be prepared?

So what is the risk of needing long-term care services? According to the Department of Health &

Human Services, about 40% of individuals over age 65 receive some form of paid in-home care, with an average care period lasting less than one year. However, about one-third of the population receives care in a nursing home: Of those individuals, about half stay less than one year, 30% stay between one and three years, and 20% stay longer than five years.

And, unfortunately, this care can be expensive. For example, it costs $97,500 per year, on average, for a private room in a nursing home, according to the 2017 Cost of Care Survey produced by Genworth, an insurance company. In some major metropolitan areas, the cost is much higher. Furthermore, Medicare typically pays only a small percentage of these expenses.

So, how do you protect yourself against these potentially catastrophic costs? Essentially, you have four options:

- Self-insure - You can try to build enough financial assets to cover the costs of a long-term care event. However, you would need to accumulate an extremely large sum to fully protect yourself, and you'd be diverting assets that could be used to help fund your retirement.

- Long-term care insurance - A traditional long-term care (LTC) insurance policy will pay for qualified

Florence B. Pytleski, 96

Mass of Christian Burial for Florence B. Pytleski, 96, of Fairmont, will be 10:30 a.m. Monday, September 10th, 2018 at the Holy Family Catholic Church in East Chain. Burial will follow at Holy Family Catholic Cemetery in East Chain. Visitation will be held 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday, September 9th, 2018 at Lakeview Funeral Home in Fairmont and will continue one hour prior to the service at the church on Monday. Florence passed away Thursday, August 30th, 2018 at Lakeview Methodist Health Care Center in Fairmont. Memorials are preferred to the Knights of Columbus, Holy Family Church and the American Legion. Lakeview Funeral Home and Cremation Service in Fairmont is assisting the family with arrangements.

Florence Bertha (Wegner) Pytleski was born February 3rd, 1922 in Armstrong, IA to Frank and Emma (Werling) Wegner. Florence attended Cheevers school graduating the 8th grade.

She met Roman Pytleski through friends as they attended local dances and played cards. They were united in marriage April 6th, 1942, in East Chain. While Roman was in the Army, Florence lived in Armstrong. Upon Roman's discharge, they began farming. A family friend, John Hytry, gave them some chickens, a pig and a cow, and let them use his machinery to get them started in farming. They would eventually move to the farm homesteaded by Roman's grandfather.

Roman and Florence were great partners, in business and in life. They took pride in their farm. They enjoyed dancing and belonged to the Couples Club for many years. They loved traveling, going on many trips throughout the United States visiting old army buddies, attending military reunions and visiting relatives.

Florence was in great shape. At age 90, she was still chasing the rabbits out of her lawn with a broom (we have pictures!). At 94, she was still shoveling snow and swearing at her lawn mower.

Florence had a great sense of humor and was a bit of a trickster. Always with a quick smile and perhaps a joke or two, she made people around her feel comfortable.

She is survived by her children: Marlene Wright of Eagan, Daryl (Tinker) Pytleski of Fairmont, Dennis (Colleen) Pytleski of Fairmont, Jim (Sylvia) Pytleski of Fairmont, and Kathleen Pytleski of Bloomington; 12 grandchildren; and 26 great-grandchildren; brother, Donald (Karen) Wegner; sister, Dorothy (Jerry) Johnson; sister-in-law, Marian (Lyle) Anderson.

Florence was preceded in death by her husband; and their eldest daughter, Sharon; siblings, Luella (Jack) Hanson, Clyde Wegner, Earl (Henrietta) Wegner, Norma (Carl) Jorgenson, Pearl (Sylvester) Borowiak, Fern (Phil) Nawrocki, Robert (Shirley) Wegner, Arlene (John) Wegener, Gladys (Clinton) Mart, Lillian (Ervin) Johnson, Velda (Ed) Sathoff and Jean (Bud) Sathoff; brothers and sisters-in-laws, Adrian Pytleski, Lucille (Kenneth) Findley, Marcy (Harry) Fraker, Dorothy (Lyle) Wenzel and Esther (Fred) Wenzel.

Hers was a life well lived.

Jeff's Jottings

Well, Labor Day is now behind us and we won't see another holiday until the end of October, so it's time to get back to work! School is now back in session for all area schools and most have already started their sports seasons. I have been out of school (high school that is) for 35 years this year, but I can still remember what it was like returning back to the classroom after a summer vacation that most of the time didn't last not nearly long enough. Living on the farm, I didn't like being cooped up inside as a kid, especially when it was having to be in a school building for 8 plus hours a day. It was always hard to stay focused on what was going on in the classroom, when I could look out the window and see the fall season approaching, knowing that I would much rather be out on the farm helping to get ready for harvest than sitting at a hard desk trying to "digest" what the teacher was talking about in each class. That feeling has never completely left me as even now when the weather is nice, I have a hard time sitting at my desk at the Photo Press all day long inside. You can ask Karis, I am in my "happy place" when I am out sitting on my lawn mower or working in the shop. Enjoy the school year kids!

"What is it?" answered

This past week's "What is it?" item was answered pretty quickly by a couple of readers. Arlen Ebert of Fairmont called right away with the correct answer. Arlen said the item is a sewing needle that is used to sew burlap bags. Another caller stated it was used for sewing canvas and tarps. Thanks for identifying the item and thanks to Gil for bringing it in! This week we have an item that was brought in by Craig Olson of Fairmont. It is made of cast metal and appears to be a part of a bigger item. It measures 11 inches long and 3 1/2 inches wide. I would guess that the two holes are connected so it is able to turn or adjust, but other than that I have no idea what it could be. The only identification on it is stamped the number "1" and "B9". There is also a logo, but it is not recognizable. So, what is it and what is it used for? If you know the answer, drop me an email at jeff@fairmont-photopress.com or call the office at 507-238-9456. Do you have an item that you want featured in a future column (either a what is it or where was it? You can stop by the Photo Press with your item so we can take a picture, get details and measurements and also your name to be featured in a future column.

He truly loved his job

I had the opportunity to sit down and interview former Fairmont Police Lieutenant Del Ellis last week about his recent retirement. It was a very enlightening interview and if there has ever been anyone who has loved their job, Del was the one who showed it best. Many times during the interview he talked about how blessed he was to work in the city of Fairmont for over 24 years, but he also made a great statement about his faith and how his love of God and his family has been a true blessing over the years.

You will have the opportunity to meet with Del Ellis personally on Saturday, September 8th from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Fairmont. Del is having this open house, not as a celebration of his retirement, but as a way to personally thank everyone for all the support he has been given over the years. He is truly humbled by the support he has been given by the community, his family, and his church family and wants to show his appreciation for that support. As he stated to me, "I loved being a cop!". I pray for health and happiness for both Del and his wife Phyllis as they both enjoy retirement in the days ahead.

Blood donation opportunities, and more

We are back "to normal" after a long Labor Day weekend. I have a few events coming up in the week ahead I wanted to point out before I go. The Fairmont Community Blood Drive is continuing this week on Wednesday, September 5th from Noon to 6 p.m. and Thursday, September 6th from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Fairmont. All presenting donors

"I absolutely loved being a cop"

24 years, four months and seven days. If you add them all up, it comes to a total of 35.

So, what significance does this have? That is the exact amount of time that Del Ellis of Fairmont spent as a Fairmont Police Officer. The total of 35 is exactly what Ellis' badge number is. He retired on August 15th as Lieutenant on the Fairmont Police Force. "I absolutely loved being a cop, and I loved my time in law enforcement in Fairmont," stated Ellis.

After being raised in Austin, Minnesota, Ellis came to Fairmont in 1994, starting out as a patrolman, then promoted to sergeant in 1998. Ellis stated that he really enjoyed being able to be out in the public, interacting with the public instead of working behind a desk. His love for his work continued that way until an incident took place in Fairmont in February of 2002 that left him with severe injuries. As Ellis put it, "It was life-changing". The injuries sustained in that incident meant that he would no longer be able to continue in the capacity he had up until that point (at the recommendation of doctors), but as he put it, "God's plan worked perfectly for me to allow a position to open up on the police force that would better suit me." It was around that time that the current Lieutenant Brad Gerhardt had decided to run for Martin County Sheriff. That November, he was elected and the Lieutenant position opened up. Ellis decided to apply and test for the position and was eventually selected to become Lieutenant. "My faith is the most important thing to me, and God not only

September 18th. Phyllis and Del had owned Fairmont Awards since 2003 and recently they sold the business so that both could enjoy retirement.

When asked what he re-years. I have always gotten way more from them and the city of Fairmont than I have given back to them, so this is one way to thank them personally."

"It has been nothing but incredible for me and my family here in Fairmont. I was honored to be able to stand side by side with my fellow police officers in the past 24 years, four months and seven days. Now it is time to see what God has in store for me ahead."

gave me the opportunity to continue working at the police department and God also gave me a loving family and also a church family that supported me. "The members of my church (St. Paul Lutheran of Fairmont) showed so much support for me, that if it weren't for them I may have decided to end my police career after that incident in 2002. They did so much for me and my family."

Ellis has been married to his wife Phyllis for 30 years. "She is just wonderful! She is so faithful and would do anything for me and my sons." They have two sons: Jon, who is a police officer in Marshall, MN and Jacob, who will be commissioned in the Air Force on members most about his time on the Fairmont Police Department, Ellis stated it was the support from the community. "I have always had incredible support from the people I served in the community of Fairmont. The people have always come out in an incredible way to show their support and thanks to the Fairmont Police Department."

An Open House has been set for Saturday, September 8th from 2 to 4 p.m. in the basement of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Fairmont. As Ellis put it, "It is not to celebrate my retirement from the force, but is my way of saying thank-you to the people of Fairmont and the area for showing their support for me over the past 24 plus

Financial impact of MFP payments to farmers

Guest Columnist

Kent Thiesse, Farm Management Analyst; VP, MinnStar Bank

Phone: (507) 381-7960 • E-mail: kent.thiesse@minnstarbank.com

On August 27th, USDA announced the details for a $12 billion "Trade Retaliation Mitigation" (farm tariff) aid package for 2018 to help offset the financial impacts on farmers that have been created by the ongoing trade disputes with China, Mexico, Canada and other countries. The aid package includes direct payments to producers of affected farm commodities, purchases of surplus commodities, and trade promotion programs. The biggest immediate impact to farmers will be the direct aid payments under the "Market Facilitation Program" (MFP) for soybeans, corn, sorghum, wheat, cotton, hogs, and dairy.

The MFP sign-up period begins on September 4th, 2018 and continue through January 15th, 2019. MFP applications can either be made at local FSA offices or be submitted electronically to FSA offices via scanning, e-mail, or fax. Crop producers can make application for MFP program once they have completed their 2018 harvest and can verify their bushels of production. Acceptable crop production verification will be similar to other required yield verification through FSA or federal crop insurance. The crop MFP payment rates are: $1.65/Bu. for soybeans, $.01/Bu. for corn, $.14/Bu. for wheat, $.86/Bu. for sorghum, and $.06/lb. for cotton.

Payments for dairy producers will be based off the historical milk production levels that have been reported to FSA offices under the Margin Protection Program (MPP) for dairy producers. Payments to hog producers will be on a per head basis, based on the number of hogs owned on August 1st, 2018. Production records for hogs will include breeding records, inventory record, sales receipts, rendering receipts, and veterinary records. The livestock MFP payment rates are $8.00/head for hogs and $.12/cwt. for dairy (milk).

The first MFP payment will be 50 percent of the calculated payment, will be made to producers after September 4, once the production information has been verified by FSA. USDA will determine after December 1st if there will be a second payment and what the payment level will be, which again would be paid on the remaining 50 percent of the 2018 production levels (as calculated earlier). Local FSA offices will be providing more details on the MFP sign-up process, production verification, and other information very soon. There is more information, a MFP fact sheet, and other very useful application tips available for the MFP program available on a special USDA web site at: www.farmers.gov/MFP.

Sonny Perdue, USDA Secretary of Agriculture, indicated that the MFP aid payments are intended to help farmers with the unintended lost farm income that has resulted from the ongoing trade disputes with other countries; however, he also stated that the MFP program "will not make farmers financially whole again". Many farm operators were either just barely at a breakeven margin level, or were scheduled to show a loss, from crop and livestock production at the projected market prices at the beginning of 2018. The decline in market prices due to the ongoing trade war, together with crop weather problems in some areas, has accentuated the anticipated negative profit margins for 2018.

A farm operator with an average corn and soybean yield in 2018 will likely show a loss on cash rented acres, unless they have marketed their crop at a higher price, or they have lower operating and land costs. The 2018 financial losses per acre can become quite significant for crop producers that have experienced weather issues in 2018, which could result in lower than average yields. Those farmers that are fortunate to have very high yields in 2018 will likely be able to at least breakeven or show a small profit from their 2018 corn and soybean production, especially with the added MFP payments for soybeans.

The MFP payments to farm operators that have been announced by USDA will certainly help ease the financial hardship being experienced by farm operators in 2018, as a result of the ongoing trade war and tariffs, especially for soybean and hog producers. However, the MFP payments will not make up for the income loss that some farmers are likely to experience in 2018, especially in areas with weather issues. An even bigger concern might be what happens in 2019, if there is no resolution to these trade disputes and commodity prices remain quite low. This could create very serious financial challenges for some farmers heading into next year.

The agricultural trade agreements that currently exist took decades to become a reality. Farm organizations and ag commodity groups have dedicated millions of dollars of financial and personal resources into developing the strong agricultural export markets that the U.S. has had with China, Canada, Mexico, and other countries. Most farm operators and others in the ag industry appreciate the aid package being offered by USDA, but favor maintaining and enhancing strong trade relations with our current trading partners, as well as seeking new trade partners, as a long-term solution for ag trade.

Prairie Star Quilt Guild coming events

The Fairmont Area Prairie Star Quilt Guild is a unique group comprised of all skill levels of quilters, enjoying a common interest. The group was organized nearly 40 years ago when several ladies in the county shared their interest in sewing and decided to expand their talents with the primary purpose of learning how to quilt. That small group of 8-10 people has now evolved into a monthly meeting group of nearly 60 Guild members. Each month they gather for a business meeting, program, "sew and tell" followed by conversation over a cup of coffee and a homemade treat. Members are offered classes during the year involving a new technique, pattern or other fiber art related ideas. Originally the group met in the evening, but with the numbers increasing, to accommodate varying schedules, an afternoon group was also formed. Both groups meet the second Monday of the month at 1:30 and 5:30 p.m. at the Fairmont Evangelical Free Church.

The Prairie Star Quilt Guild chooses a service project each year, donating handmade items to veterans, hospitals, nursing homes and shelters in need. This past year the Guild donated over 100 handmade lap quilts to veterans throughout the county along with many cancer aid items given to chemo patients in several medical facilities.

This past year at the request of the Guild Members, it was decided to feature a Fiber Arts Festival, this being an off year, a style show, displays of button challenge projects, door prizes, a boutique of handmade items as well as food offered throughout the day. Those purchasing the Festival will be held from 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 15th at the Fairmont Evangelical Covenant Church featuring 13 demonstrations throughout the day as well as a bed turning, a ticket in attendance will be eligible for a drawing at the end of the day's event, for a Martelli Sewing Station, valued at $3,500.00. This Sewing Station will be demonstrated at the monthly Guild meeting held at 1:30 p.m., Monday, September 10th at the Covenant Church with door prizes and lunch served. Tickets for the Fiber Arts Festival will also be available at this time.

The Prairie Star Quilt Guild meets the second Monday of each month at Covenant Church at 901 Woodland Avenue in Fairmont. Each meeting consists of a brief welcome, a short business meeting, show-and-tell, a quilt related program and a time to visit with other quilters over coffee and light lunch. The guild offers daytime and nighttime meetings. Membership is open to anyone who enjoys quilts or quilting - quilters of all skill levels are always welcome! Information and photos can be found on Facebook at Prairie Star Quilt Guild. For more info contact President, Barb Mager at 507-776-7601.

long-term care costs. The younger you are when you purchase your policy, the lower your annual premiums are likely to be. Keep in mind, though, that a basic LTC policy offers no death benefit or cash value – your premiums are only paying for a nursing home stay, home health care or other type of long-term care service. (Also, even a good LTC policy will include a waiting period before the insurance kicks in and a maximum amount of coverage, such as three years.)

- Hybrid/linked benefit insurance – Because of some concerns about paying for insurance but never needing care with traditional long-term care insurance, this type of insurance provides a death benefit plus long-term care coverage. You can accelerate the death benefit to help pay for long-term care costs, and you can also choose to create an additional pool for these costs after the death benefit has been exhausted., But if you don’t need long-term care, you still have the life insurance death benefit. Due to the death benefit, your premiums will be higher than those of a traditional long-term care policy.

- Life insurance with long-term care/chronic illness rider – By choosing a permanent life insurance policy with this rider, you can accelerate all or part of the death benefit to pay for long-term care costs. (Your death benefit will then be reduced.) This option generally provides more flexibility in paying premiums than a hybrid policy, which may require a larger dollar commitment. Similar to hybrid, you still have the life insurance benefit if you don’t need care.

Which option is best for you? There’s no one “right” answer for everyone, but a financial professional can help you choose the method that’s most appropriate for your situation. And from an economic standpoint – and possibly an emotional one, too – you may be better off by taking action sooner, rather than later.

Ask A Trooper: Traffic Citations

by Sgt. Troy Christianson, MN State Patrol

Question: Can a state trooper write a traffic ticket for an infraction that they did not witness?

Answer: A peace officer may arrest or issue a citation for some traffic violations and a number of misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor offenses even if the officer didn't witness it.

The traffic infractions include:

- Driving through columns of school children (within 4 hours)
- DWI
- Failure to stop at a railroad crossing (within 4 hours)
- Failure to yield to an emergency vehicle (within 4 hours)

- Railroad crossing violation (within 4 hours)
- School bus stop arm violations (within 4 hours)
- School cross walk violation (within 4 hours)

If you witness any of the above violations, please report it to your local law enforcement agency, and it will be investigated.

You can avoid a ticket — and a crash — if you simply buckle up, drive at safe speeds, pay attention and always drive sober. Help us drive Minnesota Toward Zero Deaths.

If you have any questions concerning traffic related laws or issues in Minnesota send your questions to Sgt. Troy

Christianson — Minnesota State Patrol at 2900 48th Street NW, Rochester MN 55901-5848. (Or reach him at, Troy.Christianson@state.mn.us)

Howard D. Simmering, 87

Funeral service for Howard D. Simmering, 87, of Fairmont, will be 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, September 5th, 2018, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wilbert, MN. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Visitation will be one hour prior to the service at the church Wednesday. Howard passed away peacefully Saturday morning, September 1st, 2018, at Brookdale of Eagan. Lakeview Funeral Home in Fairmont is assisting the family with arrangements.

Howard Dietrich Simmering was born April 4th, 1931, in Fairmont. He was the son of William and Adale (Laue) Simmering. Howard was baptized and confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wilbert where he also attended Parochial School. He later attended and graduated from Fairmont High School in 1949. After high school, Howard began farming with his dad in Rolling Green Township.

On December 20th, 1953, Howard was united in marriage to Marianne Quenette at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wilbert. This union was blessed with 4 daughters. The couple made their home and farmed south of Welcome in Manyaska Township. They enjoyed twenty years together before Marianne passed away in an auto accident.

On January 26th, 1985, Howard was united in marriage to Emma Nelson at Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Ceylon. The couple made their home on the Simmering Family Farm until deciding to rent out the land in 1997. Farming was Howard's first joy and he hated to give it up. He continued to fix his old tractors and antiques as well as working for a number of years as a real estate agent for Century 21. Due to health issues, Howard and Emma moved to Fairmont in November, 2007, and joined St. Paul Lutheran Church in Fairmont.

Howard was a very active member of Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Ceylon where he taught Sunday School, Bethel Bible series, and held many offices. During his free time, Howard enjoyed playing golf and cards with friends and was a member of the Fox Lake Golf Club. He also earned his Pilot's License and found joy in flying his Piper Warrior Plane. Howard most loved spending time with his grandchildren at the farm where they'd ride and drive the H Tractor and do projects.

Howard is survived by his wife, Emma Simmering of Fairmont; three daughters, Shelley Bauer and her husband, Jeff, of St. Charles, IL, Nancee Meuser and her husband, Ron, of Eden Prairie, MN, and Merilee Kozak and her husband, Joe, of Santa Ana, CA; Stepdaughter, Kathleen Gruhlke and her husband, Doug, of Spirit Lake, IA; five grandchildren, Lindsey Rowland and her husband, Scott, Ashley Meuser, Kelsey Bauer, Claire Bauer, and Matthew Kozak and his fiancée, Katie; step-grandson, Scott Bauer; two great grandchildren; brothers, Jerald Simmering and his wife, Darlene, of Prior Lake, MN, and Richard Simmering and his wife, Caroline, of Burnsville, MN; many nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives, and friends.

Along with his parents, William and Adale Simmering, Howard was preceded in death by his first wife, Marianne Simmering; a daughter in infancy; and step-son, Mark Vacek.
