Red Rock announces September artist display

Red Rock Center for the Arts in Fairmont is pleased to announce "Ode To Summer", a visual arts display by Cherie Courter during the month of September. Cherie, an Iowa native has been active in the art world as a painter and art educator. This exhibit represents her views and closer vantage points."

A graduate of Buena Vista University for both undergraduate and graduate degrees, Ms. Courter is recently retired after twenty-nine years as an art educator. She now devotes her time entirely to the further development of her acrylic paintings.

investigation of the people and landscape of the Midwest. She states, "This series depicts the human form in a variety of circumstances and environments. At times, the works are simply an investigation of groupings and placement, or the effects of light and location on the human form. Some subjects, however, require a more intimate portrayal, the depiction of individual essence or relationships, achieved by direct frontal ings. Her past works have won numerous honors and have been shown throughout the Midwest. Many of Ms. Courter's paintings are also in public and private collections in Iowa and neighboring states.

Come and see the many creative works of art. The gallery is open to the public free of charge Tuesday - Friday 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. and Thursdays until 5 p.m. Evenings and weekends are by appointment.

CREST offers class on "A Matter Of Balance"

Many older adults experience concerns about falling and restrict their activities. Being inactive results in loss of muscle strength and balance. It can also compromise social interaction and increase the risk of isolation, depression, and anxiety. Fear of falling can actually contribute to falling.

"A Matter of Balance" is a class designed to reduce fears of falling and increase activity levels among older adults who harbor these fears. The class acknowledges the risk of falling, but emphasizes practical coping strategies to reduce this concern.

CREST will be providing this "A Matter of Balance" class with trained facilitators conducting two hour sessions. The classes will be held on Tuesdays from 9:30-11:30a.m., beginning September 20th, 2016, and each consecutive Tuesday through November 8th, 2016. Classes will be held in the Fellowship Hall at Lakeview Health Services. During the class, participants will learn to view falls and the fear of falling as controllable, and set up realistic goals for increasing activity. They will also find ways to change the environment to reduce fall risk factors, and learn simple exercises to increase strength and balance.

Anyone having concerns about falling or wanting to improve their balance, flexibility, and strength, or anyone who has fallen in the past and restricts their activity because of falling concerns is encouraged to attend. Registration is required in order to provide needed materials. A one time donation of $10.00 is suggested to help cover the costs of the eight week class, but is not required. Registration deadline is Friday, September 16th, 2016. To register or if you have questions, please call the CREST office at 235-3833.

Fairmont Community Blood Drive next week

The American Red Cross has announced that the Fairmont Community Blood Drive will take place Tuesday through Thursday, September 13th through the 15th.

The location for the blood drive will be held at the Holiday Inn in Fairmont. Hours are Tuesday from 1 to 7 p.m.; Wednesday from Noon to 6 p.m. and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

For appointments, call 1-800-733-2767 or visit www.redcrossblood.org enter sponsor code: FAIRMONTMN

All presenting donors will receive a $5.00 food certificate to Green Mill, Fairmont.

The Bloodmobile will also make stops in Ceylon and at Cutting Edge Fitness in Fairmont.

Huntley church to host Community Suppers

The Community Covenant Church of Huntley, Minnesota will be resuming their Wednesday Night Suppers beginning September 14th.

The theme for their first meal is "Let's Get Fired Up". From 5:30 to 6:15 p.m. they will be serving burgers, freshly baked buns, homemade potato salad, baked beans, garden veggies and chocolate cake and ice cream for dessert.

There is no charge for the meal, but a free will offering will be taken. Following the meal, adults are welcome to stay and visit with your friends and neighbors or participate in one of the study groups.

Children grades K-6 gather for AWANA Truth-seekers Program from 6 to 7:45 p.m. Youth in grades 7-12 meet from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m.

The meals continue every week with menus available at the church, which is located at 31323 170th Street, Huntley, Minnesota or visit their website at www.communitycov.org.

Chicken 'n Biscuits Dinner at Fairmont UMC

The fourth Annual Chicken 'n Biscuits Dinner (the famous East Chain UMW recipe), will be held Sunday, September 18th from 11 a.m. to p.m. at the Fairmont United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall (lower level), 119 East Second Street, at the corner of Park Street and East Second Street. Dinner also includes vegetables, two salads, beverage and homemade pies.

The church is handicap accessible: use front entrance under the canopy. You will be directed up the ramp to the elevator.

Price: Adults, $8.00, children 5-12, $5.00, and children under 4 are free. Take-outs are available.

Church members volunteer their time, homemade pies, and most of the groceries for the dinner, thus keeping costs down and allowing for a greater profit margin. The profits from this fund-raiser are used by the church's United Methodist Women organization to fund mission work around the globe and at home.

The donated funds will be used in part by the United Methodist Committee on Relief, which works globally to alleviate human suffering and advance hope and healing. UMCOR is currently working with those evacuated by the wildfires in the western United States, those affected by flooding in Louisiana and West Virginia, hunger relief, and other natural disasters around the world.

Oddfellows, Rebekahs to meet Saturday

Winnebago City No. 30 Odd Fellows and Starlight No. 11 Rebekah lodges are hosting Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly executive board meetings, jurisdictional committee meetings, and a reception for our Assembly President, Donna Perryman on Saturday, September 10th. All meetings will be at the Winnebago Municipal Building starting at 8:30 a.m.

Donna Perryman, a member of both lodges, is from Winnebago. She was elected and installed as the Rebekah Assembly President in June during the annual meetings held in Alexandria. It is a one year term. She held the office of Assembly Secretary for several years until three years ago when she was able to start the process of becoming the president.

Odd Fellowship is a family orientated, fraternal organization whose primary purpose is to foster fellowship and mutual benefits among its members and the community. That basic structure teaches Friendship, Love, and Truth as guides to live by. It can be a philosophy of life that strives to make this world a better place in which to live. Its objective is "to improve and elevate the character of man." More information on the Independent Order of Odd Fellows can be found at ioof.org

The executive boards are the elective officers from around the state of Minnesota that meet to carry out the business between their respective annual sessions of the membership. Youth, Membership, and Visual are the state wide committees that will meet that day also. More information on jurisdictional activities can be found at mnoddfellows.org

FOH Gallery features veterans' photos

Fairmont Opera House is honored to present an exhibition featuring photos of war veterans from Southern Minnesota and Northern Iowa by Fairmont photojournalist Joseph Kreiss.

Kreiss has photographed more than 50 veterans so far and the FOH exhibit presents about 20 of those portraits.

The exhibit is on view in the Arneson Gallery through September. The gallery is open during regular FOH hours, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. weekdays and during FOH events. It will be featured during a two-day celebration commemorating the 35th anniversary of the Opera House Renovation, September 16th and 17th. An open house to the public happens from 5:00-7:00 p.m. on Friday the 16th, with historic tours, music and a reception in the Footlight Lounge.

An invitational program honoring past and current FOH volunteers is scheduled Saturday evening.

Veteran Melvin George

Kreiss's idea for the "Portrait of a Veteran" photo project was spawned on his front porch on the Fourth of July, 2015. "The sole purpose of documenting as many local veterans as I can is to tell their story and capture their spirit while they are still with us," says Kreiss. "I wanted to do something meaningful and powerful with my photography. It is my way to honor our local heroes who have served in our great nation's military."

Olson Rentals "Bouncefest" Saturday

Olson Rentals Bouncefest will be held Sunday,

September 11th from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at Gomsrud Park, Fairmont. The event will be a benefit with the proceeds going to the Minnesota Children's Hospital.

Style show comes to Fairmont

The biennial Style Show of the Prairie Star Quilt Guild will be held on Saturday, September 10th, at Bethel Evangelical Free Church in Fairmont.

The theme of this year's show is "Spread Your Wings" - and chair Karen Lester is promising a show bigger and better than ever.

The doors will open at 11:00 a.m. to allow time to enjoy punch and browse through the fine work of Featured Seamstress Arlene Carlson of Truman and the Boutique chaired by Marlys Freeman.

A luncheon will be served at noon, and the style show (with live music) will follow at 1:00 p.m. In addition to quilted garments and accessories, there will be special categories featuring up-cycled apparel and items created using the challenge fabric.

On the weekend after Labor Day, the Prairie Star Quilt Guild presents a a style show on even numbered years and a quilt show on odd numbered years. For more information about the Prairie Star Quilters, contact PSQG president Deb Wallace at 507-436-5635.

Martin County Backpack Program Fundraiser

CFS and Heaven's Table Food Shelf are hosting a fundraiser for the Backpack Food Program on Friday, September 9th at the Holiday Inn in Fairmont. Socializing begins at 6:00 p.m. and a buffet meal will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Featuring roast beef, stuffed chicken breast, California blend veggies, parsley-buttered baby red potatoes and pie. The movie "Ivy League Farmer", sponsored by CFS, will be shown following the meal.

The Backpack Weekend Food Program strives to provide nutritious meals to students in Martin County. This past year 250 student meals were provided weekly for Martin County West, Truman school students in grades K-6.

Tickets are $40 for this fundraiser and are available from CHS, Heaven's Table Board Members or by calling Heaven's Table at 238-5424.

Vote Yes for Fairmont

by Randy Lubenow,
Fairmont Community
Center Committee

WOW! What a great turnout we had at our Project 1590 booth at the Martin County Fair. I would like to thank everyone for stopping by and checking out the great projects we are working on. I would like to take this opportunity to recap some of the most common questions and comments we got from folks that stopped by our booth at the fair.

YES, the plan is for the Fairmont Community Center to have an indoor pool. This won't be a large Olympic sized pool like the pool once located in the middle school, but instead would actually be a series of pools, one dedicated for swimming laps and swimming lessons, one dedicated for aquatic therapy purposes and likely another so-called "zero-depth" pool for younger children and the disabled to use. This is a much better indoor pool model than what you might have in mind from the old middle school pool. The community center pool would be more user friendly for more people and most of all much more cost efficient. YES, the proposal includes indoor ice. The Martin County Arena has been home to the Fairmont Youth Hockey Association for several decades. This building is running out of useful life as a hockey rink. There are very costly repairs in the near future for the ice equipment. The fair would benefit from getting the use of their building back for the entire year and kids playing hockey would benefit from a new facility that will be more reliable, safer and energy efficient.

YES, the community center will be located in the city of Fairmont, but we aren't quite sure where. The location indicated on the display at the fair is the current bean field located between State Street and Johnson Street, right next to the hospital and across from the football field. This location has a lot of potential for a few reasons: Mayo came to us and offered it as a possible location; it is located between both schools for easy access by children during the school year and people coming to Fairmont for events. With this location most out of town visitors would have to drive all the way through town right pass many of our local businesses. This would be a huge economic benefit to these businesses and businesses not on State Street would be able to advertise on State Street.

YES, if you are in support of a Fairmont Community Center you need to vote YES. The most common response we got at our booth was that this was "Yes! Great Idea!" We heard a lot of "Yes! Please make this happen!" and "This just makes so much sense." Please share your enthusiasm with your friends and neighbors and encourage them to vote YES! With you on November 8th!

Sweet Financial on Inc. Magazine's Inc. 5000 List

For the third year in a row, Sweet Financial Services was named to Inc. Magazine's 35th annual Inc. 5000, a comprehensive ranking of the nation's fastest-growing private companies. Sweet Financial has steadily moved up the ranks to #3819 this year. The list represents a unique look at the most successful companies within the American economy's most dynamic segment—its independent small businesses.

"The Sweet Financial team is honored to be included on this esteemed list with America's fastest-growing companies," said Bryan Sweet, Sweet Financial Founder and CEO.

"We are thrilled to not only be named on the Inc. 5000 list for the third year, but that our ranking has gone up each year we've been listed. Our success has been in due part to the clients and businesses we help every day."

This year's Inc. 5000 is the most competitive crop in the list's history. The average company on the list achieved a mind-boggling three-year growth of 433 percent. The Inc. 5000's aggregate revenue is $200 billion, and the companies on the list collectively generated 640,000 jobs over the past three years, or about 8 percent of all jobs created in the entire economy during that period.

"The Inc. 5000 list stands out where it really counts," says Inc. President and Editor-In-Chief Eric Schurenberg. "It honors real achievement by a founder or a team of them. No one makes the Inc. 5000 without building something great – usually from scratch. That's one of the hardest things to do in business, as every company founder knows. But without it, free enterprise fails."

Complete results of the Inc. 5000, including company profiles and an interactive database that can be sorted by industry, region, and other criteria, can be found inc.com/inc5000.

FOH celebrates 35 years of volunteers

The Fairmont Opera House is pleased to announce a weekend celebration, Friday and Saturday, September 16th and 17th, of its renovation that began when it was still the old Nicholas Theater 35 years ago.

This anniversary commemoration honors the hundreds of volunteers, present and past, who have been involved with helping FOH grow and prosper. It includes those who have worked on its bricks and mortar (and, of course, roof!), those who have served on the board of directors, as Stagehands, Flappers, Rockerettes, in the Children's Theatre, and the executive directors.

A free open house for the public is scheduled Friday the 16th from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. and will feature historic guided tours, music, and a reception with cash bar in the Footlight Lounge. The invitational program Saturday night will honor the volunteers through reminiscences and historic video.

The photo exhibition, "Portrait of a Veteran," by Fairmont photojournalist Joseph Kreiss will be on display in the Arneson Gallery. This ambitious project will feature about 20 of the 50 portraits Kreiss has made so far of war veterans from the local area.

For more information, contact FOH Executive Director, Jonas Nissen, and staff at director@fairmontoperahouse.org

Prairie Star Quilters to meet in Fairmont

The Prairie Star Quilt Guild will meet Monday, September 12th, at the Fairmont Covenant Church. The executive board will meet at 12:30 p.m., followed by a general membership meeting at 1:30 p.m.

Following reports from the Secretary and Treasurer, Roxy Brummond, the PSQG librarian will report on magazines and books that have been added to the guild library since the June meeting. Contributions for the President's service project are being accepted.

This year's project from President Deb Wallace is to make duffle bags (using the Ginormous Beach Bag pattern) for kids entering the foster care system. This will be followed by show-and-tell, always an inspiring part of the meeting. Past President Mike Ellingsen is collecting blocks for his President's Quilt. Block ideas are in the newsletter. Discussion and evaluation of the September Style Show will be the main focus of the meeting. The lunch will be provided by Mike Ellingsen and Deb Wallace, with the door prize being supplied by Kathy Elkin. The evening group will meet at 5:30 p.m.

The Prairie Star Quilt Guild meets on the second Monday of each month at the Covenant Church at 901 Woodland Avenue in Fairmont. There are daytime and nighttime meetings of the guild.

Membership is open to everyone who enjoys quilts or quilting - quilters of all skill levels are always welcome. Information and photos can be found on Facebook at Prairie Star Quilt Guild. For more information president Deb Wallace at 507-436-5635.

Fairmont's Dog Park first anniversary

Fairmont's Dog Park will celebrate its one year anniversary on Sunday, September 11th, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Bring your well behaved four legged friends and join the celebration hosted by the Fairmont Area Girl Scout Troop 33665.

There will be cake for

The Martin County Humane Society will be accepting supplies and food donations.

Homemade dog treats will be for sale and a free will donation will be taken to benefit the Girl Scouts as they prepare for a trip to Savannah, Georgia next summer.

The dog park is located directly south of the Fairmont Aquatic Park and offers two separate off leash runs, one for all dogs and another for small dogs, with a double gated entry.

Farm House Doorstep; It Needed Some Help

Guest Columnist

Darwin Anthony, Business Owner, Artist, Writer

The rules of the Farm House Doorstep

The people who grew up on a farm remember the kitchen screen door well. The screen door was to be opened and shut quickly! It was something that was learned at an early age. It was a source for many swats on the behind if the farm kid did not seem to learn THE RULES

OF THE FARMHOUSE DOORSTEP. It was a constant source of irritation for a farm wife or mother! It was the constant reminder to the children every time they went in and out to "Shut the door!" They had to be taught to move quickly. To stand and hold the screen door open was an open invitation for the flies to come into the house. It was the smell of cooking food and the warm kitchen that attracted them! The old statement, "It drew them like flies" had real meaning when you lived on a farm, especially a livestock farm. The screen door was the only defense!

The opening and shutting of the kitchen screen door was a practiced art. There were three rules to remember! You never opened the door until you were ready to move in or out of the closed door. The door was always pulled shut behind you without slamming it. These were THE RULES OF THE FARMHOUSE DOORSTEP!

It was always a stressful event when visitors would come to the farm during fly season. Many were from the city where there were only a few flies. They had not been taught THE RULES OF THE FARMHOUSE DOORSTEP. As they arrived, I would watch my mother as she stood outside the kitchen door greeting the company. I would also see her bite her lip as she lived with the anticipation of the invasion. She had spent hours getting every last fly out of the house. The visitors would arrive and stand in the kitchen doorway non-saliently holding the door open as they said their hellos and good-byes. The flies saw this as a great opportunity! Do you suppose she was tempted to swat their behinds for their lack of consideration? These were the same visitors who would remark about the number of flies in the house during mealtime. They would see a fly land on the table or on their plate and comment, "I have never seen so many flies!" What could my mother do? She could not kill the fly that sat on the mashed potatoes! The flies seemed to congregate at the table during meals. It was a nightmare for someone that had to have things "just so"!

The next time you visit a farm, remember THE RULES OF THE FARMHOUSE DOORSTEP!

It Needed Some Help

When you grow up on a farm that has livestock, their well-being becomes a part of you as they provide much of the livelihood of the family. These concerns for living things never leave as you continue to see the life of any animal as something important.

We have a small flock of sheep. The first ewe to lamb presented us with a set of twins. One seemed more aggressive at nursing than the other. I could sense the weakness of the second lamb. IT NEEDED SOME HELP. I began to wonder if it had ever nursed. If not, experiences of the past told me that the lamb needed some colostrum, or the first milk of the ewe, to survive.

I decided to corner the ewe and try to give the lamb some assistance in finding the "nipple." The ewe claimed the lamb and was very upset with my trying to handle it. I was down on one knee when it happened. The ewe saw me as something that was hurting her newborn. She charged forward and hit me in the shoulder. It was not a gentle nudge, it was a full-force bunt! I went out to a friend's farm that milks many cows. Luckily, he had a cow freshen that very morning. Experience told me that I could use the colostrum from a cow.

thing, as she was claiming the lamb. I fed the lamb a small amount from the bottle and steered it toward the udder of the ewe. Suddenly, to my surprise, it began to nurse.

I started to feed the colostrum milk from a bottle.

It is always a hard decision as to whether to do this or not. If the lamb is too weak, it will not be able to stand and nurse. If it finds eating from a bottle too easy, it will not attempt to nurse. I finally decided that IT NEEDED SOME HELP. I went to the lambing pen this noon. I entered the pen with caution, as the mother still seemed agitated with my handling her lamb. I knew that her being upset was a good

Only time will tell if I have won the battle. Will the lamb continue to nurse? Should I continue to supplement the nursing by feeding it with a bottle for a few days? In any case, I feel good about what I have tried to do. IT NEEDED SOME HELP, which I have tried to provide. More good news – the lamb is doing well. We have named it Olson, after the dairy farmer that gave us the colostrum.

TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the editor:

It has been two weeks now since I picked up "Kai", a female Husky, from the Martin County Humane Society. I filled out the papers and pulled out my checkbook to pay and Karen said, "Hawkins Chevrolet has paid for Kai through a 'Sponsor a Pet' program."

It was a nice surprise and precious gift to receive as I have been looking for an addition to our "pet family" for sometime now. A mere "thank you" does not seem quite enough with all the benefits and fundraisers Hawkins Chevrolet does throughout the year.

But, all I can say is

"thank you from the bottom of my heart" for helping me adopt Kai and share her with others in the community of Fairmont. With deep appreciation and gratitude,

Pat Willett Kietzer,
Blue Earth, MN

Tomato Zucchini Mushroom Casserole

Garden Veggies

It feels and looks like the end of summer is on its way, which means the end of our garden veggie supply! I'm sad, but then that means the holidays are around the corner and what's more fun than planning and cooking for Thanksgiving and Christmas?

This recipe is one that I found on Facebook. I have found some really terrific recipes from this source and this one uses some of our beloved garden veggies.

Tomato Zucchini Mushroom Casserole:

4 small to medium zucchini
1/2 medium onion
3 medium tomatoes
1 pkg. fresh mushrooms
1 Tbsp salt
1 tsp garlic powder
2 tsp basil (dried)
1 tsp red pepper flakes (optional)
3 Tbsp chopped parsley
6 Tbsp olive oil
4 oz. cheddar cheese, shredded
sprig fresh basil

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Peel and dice the onion, slice zucchini and mushrooms, dice tomatoes. Layer half the veggies in an 8"x 8" greased casserole or glass baking dish, mixing up the colors to create a festive look. Sprinkle half the salt, garlic, basil, red pepper flakes and parsley over the veggies. Pour half the olive oil over veggies and half the cheese, then layer the other half of veggies, the rest of seasonings, followed by remaining olive oil. Bake for 20 minutes; remove casserole and sprinkle with the remaining cheese. Return to oven and bake another 15 minutes until veggies are tender. Serve hot, garnish with fresh basil if desired. Have a great week!

The Garden Bug

Mason bees

Female mason bees collect fruit tree pollen and nectar and roll them into a ball, which is placed inside a tube. An egg is laid near the food, then this little nesting chamber is sealed off with mud produced by the female bee. They work this way until there are five to eight nests, then the tube is finally sealed with a thicker mud wall. The young nestlings grow to adulthood inside their chambers, emerging the following spring in perfect timing with blooming fruit trees.

On the trail of nature

By Al Batt

I walked the Blazing Star Trail and listened to the warbling vireos sing. They appeared to have formed a choir as I was surrounded by vireo voices. This bird sings well into September. Its song is a rollicking jumble of notes that sounds like, "When I see you I will squeeze you and I will squeeze you till you hurt!" Or something like that.

Hummingbirds flew and fought over jewelweed (spotted touch-me-not), occasionally taking the time to feed on the nectar of the plants. The fruit of jewelweed is a thin pod that pops open at the slightest touch, throwing seeds explosively in all directions, hence the name "touch-me-not." This is an important nectar plant for hummingbirds and the succulent stems contain a juice that brings some people relief from skin irritations caused by poison ivy or stinging nettle. I like its looks.

The cranes are calling you

I've worked on the sandhill crane migration along the Platte River near Kearney, Nebraska, in various capacities through the years. It's a good gig. The migration is breathtaking as more than 500,000 sandhill cranes migrate through that area. I've seen nesting sandhill cranes with colts (young) where I live. I've been to the International Crane Foundation (ICF) in Baraboo, Wisconsin, a number of times. ICF has all 15 of the world's crane species represented by live birds.

Cranes occur on five continents, all but South America and Antarctica. The 15 crane species are sandhill (the most abundant), whooping (the rarest), gray-crowned, black-crowned, blue, wattled, sarus, Siberian, white-naped, black-necked, Eurasian or common, hooded, red-crowned, demoiselle and brolga. Sandhill and whooping are the two North American cranes.

Greek and Roman mythology tended to portray cranes as symbols of love, joy and a celebration of life. I love hearing crane voices. The bugles, honks and rattles are both curious and enchanting. They are jubiliations with wings. I watch them with glittering eyes.

Q-and-A

"Why do so many of the acorns I find on the ground have tiny holes in them?" It's because of acorn weevils. Acorn weevils have a long snout reminiscent of an elephant's trunk that it uses to pierce the soft tissue of a developing acorn. A female lays a fertilized egg inside the acorn, turning the acorn into a nursery. After the egg hatches, the larva feeds within the acorn and is capable of consuming the entire nutmeat.

When the acorn hardens and turns brown, ready for germination, it falls to the ground. The larva (grub) chews an escape hole before burrowing into the ground where it remains while developing into an adult. Part of the reason you find so many acorns with holes in them is because the squirrels select the good acorns and leave the wormy ones behind.

"What is the correct way to pronounce 'coyote'?" There are three ways to pronounce "coyote": kyoh-tee, ky-oat, or koy-oh-tay (the Spanish pronunciation). I favor ky-oh-tee, thanks to the influence of the famed cartoon character, Wile E. Coyote. Some people call them song dogs. Lewis and Clark referred to them as prairie wolves.

Coyotes are found in every state except Hawaii. Coyotes are persecuted by humans. Our species is convinced that the world needs weeding. As a feeder of birds, a gardener and a long-time raiser of poultry, I welcome coyotes much more than raccoons.

Dan Flores in his book, "Coyote America," exposes the urban legend of coyotes eating great numbers of small pets, by saying, "If coyotes were relying on pets as a source of food, we quickly wouldn't have any pets left." Bill McKibben, author of "Wandering Home," wrote, "When the last man dies, a coyote will be howling over his grave."

"How many different kinds of mosquitoes are there in Minnesota?" There are 51 species of mosquitoes in Minnesota and around 28 of those bite humans. I know, it seems like more. There are days when I'm amazed that anybody or anything wants to hang around me. Mosquitoes fill that niche. They are always willing to keep me company. Each of the biters are locally grown locavores. Here at the mosquito hatchery I call home, the skeeters are our flying guard dogs.

Clarification

A concerned reader wrote about my recent recommendation to plant thistle to attract bees, explaining that some thistles are invasive. In fact, in some states it's illegal for such plants to be "sold or propagated." Remember, valuable native plants in some parts of the country can be harmful pests in others.

Jeff's Jottings

With Labor Day behind us, the "unofficial" end of summer is now here. All area students have now returned to their classrooms, college students have returned to their campuses, and the only fair still left to the smile of their favorite teacher. With area schools back in session, it is very important that drivers on the roadways be extra cautious around schools, in busy crosswalks and around school buses. The "armies" of volunteers serving as crossing guards have returned to attend is the Clay County Fair in Spencer. I'm sure many parents heard their children chime in "summer was too short!" or "I'm not ready to go back to school yet!" While others may have looked forward to returning to school so they could catch up with friends they may not have seen all summer, or see their posts on the street corners and at crosswalks, but drivers also need to be aware of kids crossing at those crosswalks that are not as busy are excited about their school day and do not always pay close enough attention to the traffic. Another area of extra caution for drivers is around school buses, especially when the bus is stopped with lights flashing and the stop arm extended. It is extremely important that drivers stop a safe distance away from the buses so that students can cross the street or roadway to either enter or exit the bus. Don't create a bad situation. Stay off your phones, don't check your hair in the rear-view mirror and just pay attention when students are present in all situations. Let's keep these kids safe!

Beautiful day in the neighborhood!

Last weekend was a very productive one for Karis and I. The great weather on Saturday and Sunday allowed us to accomplish quite a few things on the Hagen Farm. I was able to do some repairs that I had been putting off on the corncrib and the barn. I spent Saturday morning helping brother-in-law Travis cut up a large tree that had fallen across their horse fence and into the neighbor's cornfield. It was actually an uneventful morning on the "Redneck farm" and I didn't even see any chickens running around with Kynlee's pants on!

(You'll have to check out Facebook to understand what I am talking about). Saturday afternoon my Dad and I took a leisurely drive through the countryside on open tractors. Our John Deere "530" was not running and needed some repairs, so we pulled it over to my cousin's place with the 3020 diesel tractor and then drove it back home again after delivering the non-running one off. What a great way to see the countryside and take in the sights and smells of the crops, at 15 miles per hour!

15 years ago... we'll never forget.

15 years ago this Sunday was a day that many of us will never forget. On September 11, 2001 airplanes that had been hijacked by terrorists struck the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. It was an act of terror that we had not experienced in many years. Multiple terrorists attacked our country, and those of us who witnessed it on television or heard it on the radio experienced a feeling of helplessness and fear. It also steeled a movement of Americanism across our country after that and revived a Patriotism that had not been felt this strongly for many decades. It is hard to believe 15 years have passed since that fateful day. Many of us had the opportunity to tour the 9-11 Traveling Memorial at the Martin County Fair last month, to relive that fateful day through pictures and artifacts and to hear personal stories from firefighters who were there that day. We were able to relive that day, to "refresh" our memories of fear, anxiety and even hatred for those who committed those acts. There are many specials on television this week, reliving that fateful day for a reason. Even though it has been 15 years, we still need to remind ourselves to "never forget." We need to renew our feeling of patriotism in this country, to unite all Americans once again for a common goal. In recent years, we have seen our nation's flag walked on, trampled and desecrated. We have had our country's morals and beliefs questioned, not only by some citizens, but also by some who are in leadership positions across this great country of ours. It is up to us to keep Patriotism going and to teach the younger generation of what happened that day, so it will never be forgotten. Never forget!

Have a great week!

Elmore Assisted Living to host Pancake Breakfast Fundraiser for Elmore 1st Responders

On Saturday, September 17th from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m., Elmore Assisted Living & Memory Care will host a pancake breakfast fundraiser to benefit the Elmore 1st Responders. For $5 per person, guests will enjoy a full pancake breakfast while supporting this very important community cause.

Elmore Assisted Living's Pancake Breakfast will be held onsite at 202 North Street East, Elmore. "As a growing organization here in Elmore, we're committed to making a difference in our greater community," explained Kacey Kasel, new RN Clinical Site Manager for Elmore Assisted Living. "This pancake breakfast fundraiser is just one more way that we can give back to this community while showing our thanks to the Elmore 1st Responders who keep us all safe."

The pancake breakfast will feature the culinary creations of Diane Flint, Chef at Elmore Assisted Living. Flint is excited about cooking for such a large group of community members and is planning a delicious menu for the breakfast.

"From fluffy buttermilk pancakes to sizzling sausage links to fresh fruit, we will provide a delicious breakfast for those who attend," said Flint. "Not only will our guest leave full and satisfied, they will also leave knowing that they played a tangible role in making a real difference through their contributions to the Elmore 1st Responders."

At the end of the event, the staff at Elmore Assisted Living will present a check for 100% of the proceeds from this fundraiser to the Elmore 1st Responders. This money can be used for equipment, supplies, and resources that they may need during this next year of service.

In addition to the breakfast, complimentary tours of this senior community will be provided and staff members will be on hand to answer questions about Elmore Assisted Living.

For more information about this event or Elmore Assisted Living, call 507.943.3333 or visit www.sunflowercommunities.org/elmore. See advertisement in next week's Photo Press.

Elmore Assisted Living & Memory Care was founded in 2015 as a part of the Sunflower Communities family of assisted living and memory care communities. Its focus is to provide modest housing accommodations that promote independence and well-being, with support services available when needed for high needs assisted living and memory care residents. Sunflower Communities exists to allow residents to live simply, while not sacrificing quality of life. For more information about Elmore Assisted Living & Memory care or Sunflower Communities visit: www.sunflowercommunities.org.

OBITUARY notices

Jay M. Hauglid, 51

A Celebration of Life Service in memory of Jay Myron Hauglid, 51, of Tempe, Arizona, will be held at Grace Lutheran Church, Fairmont on Friday, September 9th, 2016 at 2:30 p.m. Jay died unexpectedly of a heart attack on August 23rd at his home in Tempe.

Jay was the son of Al and Darlene (Nelson) Hauglid. He was born September 17th, 1964 in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. He was confirmed at Grace Lutheran Church and attended Fairmont schools, where he participated in three sports. Jay graduated from Mankato State University majoring in Computer Science. He married Georgia Buzicky on August 22nd, 1998 in Maui, Hawaii.

Jay's whole work career was spent in computers and technology. He interned at Alcoa Aluminum in Davenport, Iowa where he had his first job as a Systems Analyst. He then moved to Arizona, working at Allied Signal Aerospace, PCS Health Systems, APS Professional Software Consultants, and with Action Performance Company, which deals with Nascar racing. A highlight while there was that he and Georgia were able to spend a few days with Jeff Gordon's parents while in North Carolina. Jay also worked at ON Semiconductor and then Salt River Pima Maricopa Indian Community (SRPMIC), where along with with partner, was in charge of all technology needed to build the Arizona Diamondbacks/Colorado Rockies Training Camp. While there, Jay was honored to meet baseball legend Joe Garagiola and got to call him on a first name basis. His last employment was with Xanterra (Grand Canyon Railway) in Williams, Arizona, which is the gateway to the Grand Canyon.

Jay loved sports. Among them were Nascar Racing, Minnesota Vikings and Twins, Arizona Diamondbacks and the Colorado Rockies. Golf was his number one sport and he also enjoyed camping and fishing.

Jay and Georgia built a summer and future retirement home in Williams, Arizona and he loved the time he could spend there. He enjoyed the cowboy lifestyle, wearing a cowboy hat and boots and listening to Country music. Jay loved life, loved his family and his dogs.

Jay will be deeply missed by his wife Georgia; parents - Al and Darlene Hauglid; sisters - Kathy (Duffy) Post and Kris Walters; brother - Jeff (Tiffany) Hauglid; father-in-law Larry (Renae) Buzicky; mother-in-law Lauren Davies; sister-in-law Laura Passarellei and several nephews plus two dogs - Emily and Sparky.

Jay was preceded in death by brother-in-law Gary Walters; uncles Arden Nelson and Myron Nelson; aunt Judy Johnson; cousins Trista Johnson and Steve Skorr and both sets of grandparents.

Walter Bahr, 90

Funeral services for Walter Bahr, 90, of Fairmont, were held Wednesday, September 7th, 2016, at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Fairmont. Burial was at Hampton Cemetery in Hampton, Iowa, with full military honors. Walter passed away Tuesday, August 30th at St. Luke's Lutheran Care Center in Blue Earth. Lakeview Funeral Home and Cremation Service of Fairmont handled the arrangements for family.

Walter William Frederick Bahr was born July 12th, 1926 in Alden, Iowa, to George and Lucy (Winterroth) Bahr. He attended country school near Alden before working full time on the family farm. He was united in marriage to Beth A. Miller on November 11th, 1945 and soon after entered the U.S. Army, assigned to the 109th Infantry Battalion. After receiving an honorable discharge, he returned to farming and started a family. They lived in and around Iowa Falls, Hampton and Swea City, as well as Huntley and Blue Earth. In addition to farming, Walter sold seed corn and was an accomplished tractor mechanic. Beth passed away in 1983.

On March 31st, 1984, Walter married Dorothy Marquardt. They lived in Fairmont where he worked at the Post Office until retiring in July of 1988. He became a resident of St. Luke's Lutheran Care Center in 2011.

Walter was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church and Lee C. Prentice American Legion Post 36 in Fairmont. He enjoyed playing horseshoes, fishing and camping, listening and dancing to old-time music, and occasionally playing the accordion.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy; daughter, Marlys Schrank of Glencoe, MN; son, Lynn Bahr and his wife, Peggy, of Winnebago; daughter-in-law, Marcia Bahr of Jackson; 8 grandchildren and their spouses; 17 great grandchildren; 2 great great grandchildren; five step children, Sandra Heatherly (Larry) of Sun City, AZ, Sharon Roble (Tom) of Mazeppa, MN; Wayne Marquardt (Jean Zinter) of Owatonna, MN; DeeAnn Houck (Art) of Andover, MN; Kevin Marquardt Bradley (Melanie Raine) of St. Paul, MN; 9 step grandchildren and their spouses; 9 step great grandchildren; and many nieces, nephews, and other relatives.

In addition to his first wife, Walter was preceded in death by his parents, his eldest son, Larry Bahr; sister, Pauline Lockman; and brother, Albert Bahr.

Inhale Fashion...Exhale Style!

FASHION IS WHAT YOU BUY. STYLE IS WHAT YOU DO WITH IT.

Denise Rouse, Owner, Boutique Giddy Up

Hello Fall!

Wow! Where has the summer gone? Time to think about back to school fashion. What to wear that first day and every day after...The struggle is real!! No worries! I have a few tips to make the transition into fall a little easier.

This is not a test!

To put your mind at ease a little, fashion is not a test; there is really no right or wrong, just certain styles that we tend to gravitate to each season. The designers will update a style and "voila" - a new trend has begun.

Here's the skinny...

Jeans of all types are trending, skinny jeans, boot cut, stove pipe, and just back on the scene... flares. The secret is to find the style that flatters your shape and go with it! And if you really want to stand out, a pair of bibs, yes bibs (!!) - they're back!

My plaid

But the perfect addition to your wardrobe this year will be the plaid shirt. Wear it with jeans, skirts, leggings and dress pants. Who doesn't like plaid?

Wind of change

For those warm first days of school, wear a flirty little skirt and a sleeveless top. Then, tie a layer at your waist. Yes! Tying a shirt at your waist is totally cool again! When studying with your friends, a striped shirt and a lightweight sweater are always hip.

Don't forget to put your toes in a pair of Birkenstocks, the hottest shoe out there!

Always remember Life is a fashion show... and the world is your runway!

Large variation in Minnesota's '16 corn yield estimates

Guest Columnist

Kent Thiesse, Farm Management Analyst; VP, MinnStar Bank

Phone: (507) 381-7960 • E-mail: kent.thiesse@minnstarbank.com

Most crop experts are now agreeing that Minnesota's 2016 crop yields are likely to be highly variable across the State, especially for corn yields. In the last USDA Crop Report on August 12th, the 2016 Minnesota corn yield was projected at 184 bushels per acre, which would be the second highest ever, trailing only last year's record yield of 188 bushels per acre. Other recent statewide average corn yields are 158 bushels per acre in 2014, 160 bushels per acre in 2013, 165 bushels per acre in 2012, and 156 bushels per acre in 2011.

Interestingly, there has been quite a range in the estimated 2016 Minnesota corn yields by private analysts, ranging from about 172 to near 180 bushels per acre; however, all of the estimates are below the August USDA estimate, but are still well above final statewide averages from 2011-2014. Historically, Minnesota final average corn yields tend to decline a bit as harvest goes on, due to average corn yields in Central and Northern being lower than anticipated. 2016 may be somewhat different than other years, as portions of Southwest and South Central Minnesota also experienced a variety of weather challenges during the growing season, and are also likely to have lower yield levels than anticipated.

The USDA Crop Report August 12th projected Iowa to achieve a record average corn yield of 197 bushels per acre in 2016, which would surpass the 2015 State record yield of 192 bushels per acre. Most private analysts agree that Iowa's 2016 corn crop should surpass, or be close, to the 2015 record yield; however, some late season dry weather concerns in portions of the State, along with a higher than normal disease incidence, has raised some concerns regarding Iowa's high corn yield projections. Statewide corn yields in States such as Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio have been "up and down" in recent years. After achieving record or near-record yields in 2014, corn yields dropped off considerably in 2015. For 2016, Illinois corn yields are projected to approach the 2014 record level, Indiana yields are estimated to be above average, and Ohio yields are expected to be slightly below average.

In the August 12th Report, USDA projected a record national average corn yield of 175.1 bushels per acre, which would surpass the previous record U.S. corn yield of 171 bushels per acre in 2014. USDA is currently estimating total 2016 U.S. corn production at over 15.1 billion bushels, which would be the highest in history, and would well surpass the previous record U.S. corn production of 14.2 billion bushels in 2014. Many private analysts feel that the USDA estimates for both the national average corn yield and total 2016 U.S. corn production are a bit too high, given the poor early and mid-season growing conditions in the Western Corn Belt, along with numerous areas that have faced crop challenges later in the growing season.

One of the biggest challenges with the Minnesota corn crop is usually getting the crop mature before the first killing frost. Average first frost dates range from around September 20th in the northern areas of the State to around October 15th in Southeast Minnesota. The good news is that crop development in many areas of the State are much more advanced in the 2016 crop year, as compared to a normal year. As of August 31st, a total of 2,336 growing degree units (GDU's) had been accumulated since May 1st, 2016, at the University of Minnesota Southern Research and Outreach Center at Waseca, MN. That level of GDU accumulation is approximately 10 percent above normal, and usually does not occur until September 13th in an average year.

Corn is considered to have reached physiological maturity once it is in the "black layer" stage. Some of the earlier planted corn in Southern Minnesota is likely to reach this stage by September 10th-15th, while later planted corn, and corn in other areas of the State, may be a week or two later. The concern for an early frost does not appear to be as great in 2016, as compared to years such as 2014 and 2013, when corn was planted much later than this year, and growing conditions were much less favorable.

Many portions of Minnesota have received record, or near-record, levels of precipitation during the 2016 growing season. The U of M Research Center at Waseca received 11.7 inches of rainfall in August, which was the second wettest August in history, and was just shy of the record monthly rainfall in 1924. The very wet August followed the second wettest July in history at Waseca, with 8.93 inches of rainfall recorded. This brought the two-month total precipitation for July and August at Waseca to 20.63 inches, which exceeded the previous two-month precipitation record at Waseca by over 3 inches, which was set in 1979. Most long-time farm operators remember the very wet growing season of 1993. There was over 5 inches less rainfall at Waseca in the July and August period that year, as compared to 2016.

One concern for harvest of this year's corn and soybean crop, as well as other crops, could be the extremely wet field conditions that exist in many areas of Minnesota and surrounding States. If the wetter than normal conditions continue through September, the saturated field conditions could lead to some very challenging harvest conditions in some areas. These type of soil conditions are also very favorable for the development of root rot and stalk rot diseases in crops, which could result in more crop lodging, as well as increased harvest losses, in some areas.

The August 12th USDA Crop Report was based on crop conditions as of August 1st, and the next Crop

Report on September 12th will be based on conditions as of September 1st. Many crop experts expect USDA to adjust the 2016 U.S. average corn yield estimate, as well as overall 2016 production levels, slightly lower in the September 12th Crop Report. This would be more in line with where many crop experts are projecting U.S. corn yields in 2016.

With the school year back underway, I would like to focus on the safety of our children. Following the guidelines below will help keep children safe around school buses.

School Bus Safety Tips for Motorists:

- Motorists must stop at least 20 feet from a school bus displaying red flashing lights and/or its stop arm is extended. This is important not only when approaching a school bus from the rear, but also when approaching the bus from the opposite direction on undivided roads.

- Red flashing lights on buses indicates that students are either entering or exiting the bus.

- Motorists are not required to stop for a bus if the bus is on the opposite side of a separated roadway (median, etc.)

— but they should remain alert for children.

- Altering a route or schedule to avoid a bus is one way motorists can help improve safety. In doing so, motorists won't find themselves behind a bus, potentially eliminating risk to children.

- Always reduce speeds in and around school zones.

- Watch and stop for school crossings and pedestrians — the law applies to all street corners and for both marked and unmarked crosswalks (all street corners) — every corner is a crosswalk.

School Bus Safety Tips for Children:

Parents should discuss and demonstrate pedestrian safety with their children and reinforce safe crossing after exiting a bus:

- When exiting a bus, always look to be sure no cars are passing on the shoulder (side of the road).

- Make eye contact with the bus driver and cross when the driver signals that it is safe.

- Look left-right-left when coming to the edge of the bus to be sure traffic is stopped. Continue to watch for changes in traffic while crossing.

Traffic safety is a two-way street and everyone has an investment.

You can avoid a ticket — and a crash — if you simply buckle up, drive at safe speeds, pay attention and always drive sober. Help us drive Minnesota Toward Zero Deaths.

If you have any questions concerning traffic related laws or issues in Minnesota, send your questions to Sgt. Troy Christianson - Minnesota State Patrol at 2900 48th Street NW, Rochester MN 55901-5848. (Or reach him at, Troy.Christianson@state.mn.us) Twitter: MSP-PIO_SOUTH
